Ike Proposes 6-Point Plan Increasing Social Security

Extended Coverage, Higher Benefits Advocated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today proposed bringing 10 million more Americans under social security, increasing benefits all along the line, and raising to $4,200 the amount of income subject to social security taxes.

In a special message to Congress, the President said the average benefit payment to retired workers is now $50 a month, with a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $85.

For social security to "fulfill its purpose of helping to combat destitution, these benefits are too low," Eisenhower said.

Both the maximum and minimum should be increased, he said, but proposed no figures. A formula on that will be presented later by Secretary of Welfare Hobby, he told the legislators.

Well-posted congressional sources told reporters they understood the increases Mrs. Hobby is to propose would range from a minimum of $5 a month in the lowest brackets to more than $10 in the upper brackets.

Mrs. Hobby called a news conference for tomorrow at 2 p.m. EST to discuss the administration plan.

Boosting to $4,200 the amount of income subject to social security taxes, as Eisenhower proposed, would mean an immediate $12 a year tax increase for workers earning that much or more.

Employers' payrolls would also be increased that amount for each worker in the $4,200 a year bracket or above.

At present the first $3,600 is taxed. The rate this year went up to 2 per cent. It had been 1½ per cent on worker and employer.

The President set forth a six-point program for "improvement" of the social security system:

1. Expansion of insurance protection to about 10 million more people not presently covered—including self employed farmers; many more farm workers and domestic workers; doctors, dentist, lawyers, architects, accountants, and other self employed professional people; members of state and local retirement systems and clergymen (on a voluntary basis); and several smaller groups.

2. Liberalization of the present "retirement test" to permit retired workers to earn more at regular parttime jobs without disqualifying themselves for social security benefits.

At present, a man or woman over 65 years of age (and under 75) cannot draw social security payments if earnings are more than $75 a month.

This operates to discourage them from taking part time work.

Similarly, a widow of an insured worker loses her payment if she takes a job and earns more than $75 a month.

After age 75, there is no restriction at present as to earnings.

3. The increase in the monthly benefits which Secretary Hobby is to detail later.

4. Broadening of the current base of the social security tax—that is levying on the first $4,200 of income.

5. Computation of benefits "on a fairer basis." The President said the level of old age benefits now is related to an average of a worker's past earnings, and that under the present law terms of abnormally low earnings or none at all, are averaged in with periods of normal earnings, "thereby reducing the benefits received by the retired worker." He recommended a new formula for computation of benefits to provide what he called a fairer return.

Under this formula, the four lowest years of earnings would be eliminated when calculating the earned payments.

6. Protection of the benefit rates

SWISS RESCUE WORKERS AT AVALANCHE SCENE. Swiss rescue workers clear avalanche debris from main road between Sisikon and Fluelen, near Lucerne, Switzerland, a culvert of which can be seen at right. Plane Crashes Near Rome, 16 Lives Claimed

Pilot Able To Miss Apartment Building During Death Plunge

ROME (AP)—A smoking four-engine Philippines Airline plane crashed and exploded in the populous outskirts of Rome today and all 16 persons aboard were killed.

The big DC6 hit a vacant lot not far from a big apartment building. It was coming in for a landing on a flight from Beirut, Lebanon, one leg in its regularly scheduled trip from Manila to London. An eyewitness said the left engines were smoking as it approached Ciampino Airport outside Rome. It appeared to be heading for the building, then banked and plunged into the lot with a tremendous roar.

Among the seven passengers aboard was the airline's European manager, Royal R. Jordan, a native of Boston who has lived in Rome several years. The pilot—Chief of the nine-man crew aboard—was Ira Broome of Caro, Mich., head pilot for the airline.

The co-pilot was identified as William Rose of Alton, Ill., who friends said lived with his wife in Rome. Mrs. Rose reportedly is expecting a baby.

It was the first fatal accident in the airline's international operation. The Philippine Airline was given a safety award last October at an international air conference.

Airline officials said the cause of the crash was as yet unknown but officials speculated the pilot chose to plunge his smoking plane into the open field rather than crash into the crowded apartment buildings nearby.

Firemen found only bits of wreckage and bodies.

County Porchlight Drive Plans Made By Chairmen

The "Mothers' March on Polio"—the banding together of 1,500 Marion County women in the fight against polio—will be the dramatic climax to the March of Dimes campaign this year.

On Jan. 28, every family in the county will be asked to turn on their porchlight between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m., or to burn a light in their front window, if they wish to make a contribution. Marching mothers will stop at each house where there is a light. In some areas of rural Marion County part of the collections will be made during the day.

MOBILIZATION of the marchers is under the direction of county co-chairmen, Mrs. William Guthery, Essex pike, and Mrs. John E. Peacock, Mautz-Owens road; and city co-chairmen, Mrs. R. P. Wagner, 426 Bellefontaine Ave., Mrs. William Gracely, 206 St. James St., Mrs. John J. Dugan, 857 S. Prospect, and Mrs. O. H. Gearhiser Jr., 508½ E. Center St.

Plans for the promotion of the march were made at a special meeting called by Robert Kries, general publicity chairman of the event. His working staff includes numerous special committees, as well as co-chairman Cal Arnold, secretary Mrs. Verna Mae Wolgamot, and advisors, Jay Maish Jr., Bert Freed and Gene Poling.

At the meeting, Kries emphasized the tremendous importance of providing the required dimes and dollars to help those who may be stricken.

"THERE IS NO WAY of knowing who will be next," Kries stated. "It may be the kid next door, or it may be you. Treatment of a polio case frequently requires thousands of dollars, and it is only through the March of Dimes that we can be sure of having the money for the right kind of treatment if any of our loved ones are stricken."

The march will be conducted on an area basis of townships for the county and school districts for the city. Each area will be supervised by a captain under whom will be a lieutenant for each section of the area and a warden for each block. Blocks in all cities and towns are divided into

Indian General Says Group To Be Returned Under Prisoner Status

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya announced today that India's custodial troops will return unrepatriated Korean War prisoners to their Allied and Communist captors next Wednesday morning—nearly three days before their scheduled release as civilians.

In letters to the Red and Allied commands, Thimayya said India acting alone, would return the captives—as prisoners, not civilians—"as the only correct and lawful and peaceful course open."

More Than 22,000 Held

Indian troops hold in Korea's demilitarized zone more than 22,000 North Koreans and Chinese who were captured by the Allies and who have refused to return to their Red-ruled homelands, and 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 325 South Koreans who refused repatriation from Red captivity.

An Indian spokesman said Thimayya's move was the Indian command's "final say" and did not need the approval of the five-nation Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (NNRC), headed by Thimayya.

Both the Swiss and Swedish delegates to the commission objected to parts of the Indian general's letter, but both agreed to returning the prisoners.

Back Red Demands

Poland and Czechoslovakia, the commission's two Iron Curtain members, presumably stood firm on Red demands that the prisoners be held until a peace conference settles their fate. The Communist Peiping radio called this a "mandatory provision" of the armistice.

The Allies contend that the armistice calls for the POWs to revert automatically to civilian

Little Headway Made in Effort To Open Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied and Communist liaison officers met today in an effort to get the stalled preliminary Korean peace talks going again, but they agreed only to try again tomorrow.

U. S. State Department official Kenneth Young said the meetings might continue "for a week or so."

The Communists proposed that the talks to set up a peace conference resume Saturday and flatly refused to discuss conditions for reopening the discussions.

The Reds also turned down a U. N. suggestion that the liaison meetings be secret.

U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean broke off the preliminary talks Dec. 12 when the Communists accused the United States of conniving with South Korea in the release of 27,000 anti-Communist Korean War prisoners.

Dean said he would return to the conference table only after the Communists withdrew their charge of perfidy.

Communist newsmen said the U. N. Command sought today to have the accusation stricken from

Deadlock on Site Snarls Preliminary Big 4 Parley

BERLIN (AP) — The Big Four foreign ministers' conference bumped into a deadlock today — 11 days before the parley was due to start. Unable to agree on sites in Berlin for the parley, Allied and Russian representatives asked their home governments what to do.

Doubt Red Sincerity

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States did not believe the deadlock would postpone the conference beyond the Jan. 25 target opening date, but there was speculation in political circles here that the Russians were preparing to torpedo the meeting.

Despite the glum outlook, there was no indication of any change in plans of U.S. Secretary of State Dulles to arrive here Jan. 22 for pre-conference talks with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. Reports from the East indicated Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov still is expected Jan. 23.

'Waste of Time'

A senior Allied official here said the past week's four meetings of Berlin commandants of the four powers involved 37 hours of wrangling and were a "waste of time."

The State Department spokesman in Washington charged the Russians with employing "haggling and dilatory tactics on procedural points, but expressed hope this would "not stand in the way of this very important conference that can mean so much to the peace of the world."

The Moscow radio already has been taking pot shots at the West in connection with the conference and the Moscow press has been serving notice that the Soviet Union will not yield in its views on the issues which will confront the foreign ministers.

Both Sides Skeptical

Western officials and commentators have been just as skeptical of the Russian intentions.

The four powers are due to discuss the future of Germany and Austria, but the Soviet Union is expected to bring up other proposals, such as a five-power "peace conference" with Red China attending.

First Petition For Candidacy Filed in Marion

First petition of candidacy for the May primary election was filed this morning with the Board of Elections in the Courthouse by Robert H. Stief of 842 E. Church St.

His petition was for Republican central committeeman from Precinct E of the Sixth Ward. He has served in that capacity for over 25 years.

Even though a Feb. 3 deadline is fast approaching, this is the only petition filed so far, elections board officials report.

Among those who must file by the 4 p.m. deadline on Feb. 3 are candidates for county auditor, probate judge, one county commissioner, representative to the Ohio General Assembly, and two central committeemen from each of the 55 precincts in the city and county.

Delay Granted Prosecutor in Reuther Case

Key Witness Refuses To Come Back to U.S., Forces Postponement

DETROIT (AP)—The prosecution, admittedly stunned by a key witness's refusal to return to the United States, today obtained a 15 day postponement in the pre-trial examination of one of four persons charged in the shooting of Walter Reuther.

Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen granted the postponement until Jan. 9 in the pre-trial examination of Carl Renda at the request of Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien.

O'Brien said he would be unable to present his case without the testimony of the witness, Donald Ritchie, now held in Windsor, Ont., pending international extradition proceedings.

Renda remains free under a $25,000 bond.

O'Brien originally asked for a three-month continuance explaining the time was needed to complete the complicated extradition proceeding against Ritchie.

"Ritchie can plead guilty and we can use him as a witness."

Ritchie, yesterday balked at returning to Detroit to testify as O'Brien's key witness.

He refused to waive extradition after previously stating he would return voluntarily. Ritchie was taken into custody in Preston, Ont., after eluding an international search for five days following his escape from a downtown Detroit hotel Friday.

$12,500 Raise Advocated for Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A substantial majority of the Commission on Judicial and Congressional Salaries was reported today to favor a $27,500 salary for senators nad representatives — a $12,500 pay boost.

The commission, set up by the 1953 Congress to make recommendations on the pay of federal judges and members of Congress is to submit its report to President Eisenhower at the White House tomorrow.

Under the law, Congress must act on the report by March 15. In an election year like this one the subject is ticklish.

It was understood a few of the members representing agriculture on the commission thought a $10,000 salary hike for the lawmakers was sufficient. All of the members support a substantial increase and it was understood most of them were agreed upon the $27,500 figure.

One report was some commission members thought the recommendation should be high enough so Congress should cut it and still vote a substantial raise.

Streets, Walks Slippery After Snowfall Here

A half an inch of snow which fell in Marion and area this morning once again made streets and sidewalks slippery.

Light snow continued throughout the morning as the temperature began to rise. The low mercury reading last night was 14 and by 10 o'clock it had risen to 24. Highest forecast for today was 22 to 28.

More snow turning to rain and milder is the forecast for Friday. A year ago, the high was 56 and the low 36.

137 Pints Given At Bloodmobile Visit in Marion

Marion Countians contributed 137 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit made its first visit of the new year here Wednesday. Of the 165 volunteer donors registered, appointments were kept by 108. Thirty-four walk-ins increased the number to 142 volunteers. Colds, seasonal illnesses and other unforeseen circumstances caused cancellations.

The unit is at the Marion Power Shovel Co. plant today.

Mrs. Gladys Arter, vice chairman of volunteer services, was in charge of the center. Volunteer physicians in attendance were Dr. Charles Wilson, Dr. Richard Morgan and Dr. Merritt Marshall.

Registered nurses assisting were Mrs. George Bull, Mrs. John Messenger, Mrs. Louise Sands and Mrs. Helen Harron; nurses' aides, Mrs. Edward T. Huber, Mrs. Harry Carey, Mrs. Clarence Meister, Miss Mary Heininger; motor corps, Mrs. Bernard Moloney, Mrs. J. N. Ritzler, Mrs. Floyd Yeager; canteen, Miss Elizabeth Ammann, Mrs. W.

Charges Filed In Courtroom Judge's Death

Man Who Fired Fatal Shots During Hearing Turns Pistol on Self

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—While stunned residents of this western Pennsylvania community mourned the death of popular 51-year-old Judge Allision D. Wade, police today lodged a formal murder charge against the man who shot him dead in his courtroom yesterday.

Wade had summoned Norman Moon, 26, of Connellsville, before the bench on a non-support charge lodged by Moon's estranged wife.

A handful of horrified witnesses watched the irate construction worker stalk to the front of the court and methodically shoot the judge twice after he had fallen beside his bench. A short time

Godfrey Reckless, Insist Officials at N.Y. Airport

NEW YORK (AP) — The Port of New York Authority, brushing aside Arthur Godfrey's contention that a strong cross wind caused his plane to nearly hit the Teterboro (N.J.) Airport control tower, has accused the radio-TV star of careless and reckless flying.

Godfrey had said earlier, and repeated last night on his television show, that a 70-degree cross wind of about 40 miles per hour caught his twin-engine craft just as he took off from Teterboro a week ago.

From Miami Beach Godfrey said:

"It was unintentional; and if I scared the boys in the tower I am sorry."

Later, Fred M. Glass, director of aviation for the port authority, which operates the major airports in the New York metropolitan area, including Teterboro, said he noted Godfrey's explanation but told the Civil Aeronautics Administration:

"It is difficult for anyone familiar with the aerodynamics and the characteristics of the DC3 (Godfrey's plane) to believe that wind of that velocity reported could possibly cause such a maneuver if the pilot and co-pilot wished to keep the plane on course."

First reports had said Godfrey, upset because he was not allowed to take off on his favorite runway, "buzzed" the control tower.

The port authority asked the CAA, if facts substantiate it, to discipline Godfrey "to demonstrate vigorously and unmistakably that

Bricker Amendment Showdown

Critical Test of Strength To Face Ike in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's efforts to tone down Sen. Bricker's amendment to limit treaty-making powers pointed him today toward a critical test of his strength in Congress.

The weight of political opinion here seemed to be that if Eisenhower fails to convince enough GOP lawmakers that the Ohio Republican's proposal is bad, he may suffer a defeat that would dilute his prestige and perhaps threaten major segments of his legislative program. Bricker at one time had enough avowed support in the Senate to put his amendment across.

Democrats said privately they intend to sit out, for the time being, the backstage battle over Bricker's proposal to amend the Constitution to (1) spell out that treaties should not override domestic law and (2) give Congress power to regulate executive agreements not submitted to the Senate for ratification.

An influential Democratic senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he is not averse to letting the Republicans cut each other up politically on the issue.

He said it seemed obvious the Bricker amendment had been aimed originally at a Democratic president and that some GOP members were embarrassed now that a Republican was in the White House, adding:

"If Atty. Gen. Brownell and Secretary of State Dulles can't keep the Republicans lined up on the President's side, then maybe we Democrats will have to step into

Menu for Bride Is Good for Everyone

For Taste Appeal, Serve Yam and Apple Scallop With Pork Roast

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

You're a young bride and it's time to invite your folks to dinner again. When you ask them, Pop will probably make his usual speech: "No need to get stylish for us. Never liked dishes that put on airs anyway. Just make plain food taste good!"

Young Madam, here's your menu. Roast loin of pork crispy and brown. Orange-gold yams and apple rings. Green beans. Then if you can't resist being just a tiny bit fancy, we suggest sprigs of parsley for the pork crunchy pecans with the yam and apple dish, and thin lemon slices to give the beans tang and because their pale yellow looks so pretty against the green.

Let's start with the pork loin. Buy a rib end of about five pounds — allowing about one-half pound for each serving. Have your meat man saw the backbone free from the rib and other bones to make your groom's carving life easy.

If you want to shop for your dinner party ahead, it's perfectly safe to store the roast in your refrigerator for several days. Just unwrap it when it comes from the meat market, then rewrap it loosely in waxed paper.

When you are ready to roast the pork, rub it with salt, using about one half teaspoon to a pound of meat. Sprinkle lightly with pepper, using freshly ground pepper if you have a mill. Place the roast fat side up on a rack in an open pan. Do not cover, and do not add water — you want your meat to roast, not steam. Roast in a slow (325F) oven about three hours and fifteen minutes — if Pop likes his meat well done. If you have a meat thermometer, insert it through the fat side into the center of the roast; don't let the tip end of the thermometer touch bone. When the thermometer registers 185F you'll have well-done pork.

And now to the yams. If you're buying them several days ahead store them in a dry place — not hot, not cold. Don't put them in the refrigerator. The recipe for our special yam, apple and pecan casserole follows.

Yam and Apple Scallop Boasts Taste and Eye Appeal and Is Easy To Prepare.

If you use fresh snap beans, snip off the ends, scrub them in cold water, and leave them whole. Cook at the last minute, in a small amount of boiling lightly salted water, to the degree of doneness your family likes — tender-crisp or really soft. You can use canned whole beans.

Drain the hot beans — fresh-cooked or canned — stir in a big lump of butter until it melts and add a small squeeze of lemon juice; garnish with thin lemon slices.

For dessert? If you can make a creditable layer cake, go ahead! If not, buy two layers of sponge cake, fill them with membrane-free orange sections and a layer of whipped cream; frost the top with more whipped cream and sprinkle with chocolate shot. Or if your family are weight-watchers, have a compote of fresh fruit. Serve coffee family-style in big cups and Pop will have no complaints!

YAM AND APPLE SCALLOP

Ingredients: 8 medium-sized yams, 4 medium-sized apples (cored but unpeeled and cut in rings), ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar, ½ cup pecans, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mace, ¼ cup butter or margarine.

Method: Cook yams in covered saucepan in boiling salted water until almost tender — about 25 minutes. Peel and cut yams into lengthwise slices about ½-inch thick. Arrange layers of half of yam slices, apple slices, brown sugar, pecans, salt and mace in a buttered 2-quart casserole. Dot with half the butter of margarine. Repeat layers and dot with remaining butter or margarine. Cover and bake in moderate (350F) over 50 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

San Antonio's Zoo Appeals to Animals

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Animals in the San Antonio Zoo never had it so good. That must be the reasoning of wildlife outside the zoo, Director Fred Stark says.

Stark revealed yesterday in a report to the San Antonio Zoological Society that during 1953 he trapped a total of 85 wild animals trying to break into the zoo.

Included were 44 skunks, 37 opossums, 3 raccoons and 1 ringtail cat.

Stranded Motorist Changes Her Mind About Hot Rodders

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Hot rod drivers to Mrs. James Farricy of Needham were always a group given to whizzing about the countryside in old autos.

That's what she thought of them —until yesterday.

Stalled when the chains on her car snapped and tangled around the axle, Mrs. Farricy was helped by a motorist who stopped and volunteered his aid.

Despite the near-zero temperature, the young man worked quickly and efficiently until the chain was cleared. She offered to pay him but the youth refused, instead handing her a card which read:

"You have just been assisted by the Nomads of Newton, a hot rod club devoted to the better understanding between the rodder and the public."

Woman Learns She Already Has Divorce

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Middlesex Probate Judge John C. Leggat yesterday took under consideration the case of a wife who was divorced 18 years ago but didn't know it.

Mrs. Tovio Jokinen, 44, of Stowe, testified she went to court in 1935 to have her husband stop beating her and support herself and their two children.

She said they were reconciled later that year and have since had three more children. She told the court she decided she wanted a divorce last summer after her husband disappeared. It was then her lawyer learned she was divorced in 1935.

EVER HOOK A BIG NORTHERN PIKE?

September 20, 1940, Peter Dubue, fishing in Sacandga Reservoir, New York, tossed out his plug and almost fainted when the Northern Pike he hooked was weighed in at the dock. It broke all world records, 46 pounds and 2 ounces. Length, 52½ inches. Every fisherman has just one big ambition, to hook a big one. And we are no exception to this rule. Lengthier Program Planned for Pupils

PASADENA, Calif. (UP) — The president of one of the country's top science schools has announced a plan to make student scientists more liberal arts-conscious and liberal arts studenis better versed in science.

Dr. L. A. DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, has devised a plan whereby a student can spend a total of five years in college and walk out with both bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degrees.

It works this way. Young men from certain selected colleges that have approved the plan can spend three years at their school, taking arts courses such as literature, history and languages.

After three years, and upon approval of their records, they can transfer to Cal Tech as juniors and spend two years studying science.

After five years they emerge with BA degrees from their original schools and a BS degree from Cal Tech.

Schools already approved to participate in the plan are Occidental College in Los Angeles, Pomona College, Claremont, Calif., and Whitman College, in Walla Walla, Wash.

The faculty of Cal Tech voted to give the plan a trial. It is called a "3-2" program, similar to plans already in operation at other schools in other fields of study.

Dr. DuBridge said that for the present the plan will be limited to not more than five institutions participating with Cal Tech.

But "if, as expected, the plan works out to the mutual benefit of the students and the colleges in the next few years, the number of participating institutions will be increased," DuBridge added.

If the plan works, the nation will have a whole new breed of scientists equally at home in discussions of nuclear reacotrs or Hamlet's mother complex.

Japan leads the world in fisheries production with an average of almost 3,000,000 metric tons of fish a year. The United States ranks next with 2,500,000 and Russia is third with 2,000,000.

Saxbe Seeking Nomination for Seat in Senate

Ohio House Speaker To Oppose Bender in GOP Primary Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William Saxbe, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives and a World War II bomber pilot, has launched a campaign for the U.S. senatorial nomination in the face of official GOP opposition.

After a meeting yesterday with GOP House members, Saxbe told reporters he will seek the May 4 primary nomination against Congressman George H. Bender of Cleveland. Bender was endorsed last week by the state republican central and executive committees.

Saxbe's announcement was followed by a statement from GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron, who said the Republican organization will conduct a vigorous and aggressive campaign to elect Bender.

Saxbe made his announcement with the statement:

"If no one else is going to run against Bender, I am."

He added: "Many people remember Mr. Bender as the song-singing, bell-ringing voice of doom in the national convention last year and were given little confidence in Republican leadership by that exhibition."

Winner of the GOP fight for senatorial nomination apparently will face former Cleveland Mayor Thomas A. Burke, recently appointed to the vacancy created by the death of Robert A. Taft, Republican leader in the U.S. Senate. Burke so far is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Taft's unexpired term ends Jan. 3, 1957.

Saxbe said he had consulted no one else in the party organization about his campaign. He said his conscience would not permit him to support Bender.

"I couldn't support Bender, but if no one else was in the field I couldn't do anything else but support him . . .

"So I decided if I had the courage of my convictions I had an obligation to get into it," Saxbe said of the senatorial race.

Bliss said he "strongly urged" Saxbe, in the interest of party harmony, not to oppose Bender.

Now serving his fourth 2-year term as state representative, Saxbe is married and has 3 children, 2 boys and a girl.

NAMED PLANT MANAGER

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Seiberling Rubber Co. announced today C. F. Biggs has been named manager of the company's new plastics plant at Newcomerstown.

Biggs will act as a field engineer while construction is in progress and be in charge of all operations when production begins next summer.

ALL THIS AND A MEDAL TOO. Marine Maj. Walter Harris, Glenn Ridge, N.J., gets an added decoration from his children, Emmylou (left) and Rutland, after he was awarded the Legion of Merit in Washington, D.C., because, as a prisoner of war, he defied torture and death threats and refused to "confess" germ warfare charges by the Communists. Four other Marines were also given medals.

Rhodes Claims Backing Of GOP in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — James A. Rhodes, Ohio's state auditor who yesterday announced his candidacy for the governorship, says he has the support of fellow Republicans in Washington.

He spent yesterday seeing Treasury Secretary Humphrey of Cleveland, GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall and Republican congressmen. Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) gave a luncheon in his honor.

At the luncheon, Rep. Bender, candidate to succeed the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said he, too, has the support of Republicans in Washington.

'Tainted With Politics'

Sen. Ellender Criticizes Eisenhower Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today President Eisenhower's proposed new farm program is "tainted with politics."

The proposal would result in lower price supports for cotton, wheat, corn and other products, Ellender said in an interview, but would continue present high supports for tobacco, promise them for wool through a new direct subsidy, and make no change for dairy products.

"It looks like someone figured out votes in planning this program," Ellender added.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he is certain the program is the right one, although he added its political feasibility is yet to be determined.

The President also said he does not regard himself as too smart politically but is confident that a shift from rigid to flexible farm price supports will help farmers and the nation's prosperity.

With a congressional battle mounting over the new farm proposals, Ellender predicted the Senate Agriculture Committee will line up 10-5 against it. He is the senior Democrat on the group.

Any such division might make it difficult for the President's congressional leaders to get action at this session. Chairman Hope (R-Kan) and other members of the House Agriculture Committee have shown little enthusiasm for the proposals.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate committee declined direct comment on Ellender's forecast except to say he expects members to "keep an open mind" until they learn the facts. The committee opens hearings Monday.

Most of the Democrats and several Republicans on the farm committee have announced they favor extending the present rigid 90 per cent price supports on cotton, corn wheat, tobacco, peanuts and rice that expire with this year's crops.

Eisenhower proposed a flexible system of price supports ranging from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, a price declared by law to give farmers a fair return. Government price pegs would be lowered in times of surplus and raised during shortages, to stimulate production. The amount price supports could be lowered in any one year would be limited.

Sen. Young (R-ND), in a separate interview, said he agreed with Ellender that a majority of the Senate committee now opposes flexible supports. But Young said he regards Eisenhower as "very capable politically and I think the last election proved that."

Cave-In Buries Miner Beneath Tons of Rock

DRAGERTON, Utah (AP)—Rescue workers worked late last night attempting to reach a miner trapped beneath tons of rock by a mine cave-in.

Trapped is Willie Trupillo, about 45, who was caught in the cave-in yesterday afternoon at the Geneva Horse Canyon coal mine near this central Utah town.

It was not learned what caused the cave-in.

Bank Officers Named At Sycamore Meeting

SYCAMORE — The 35th annual meeting of the shareholders of the First National Bank was held in the Sycamore Methodist Church Tuesday with about 100 shareholders and friends present.

A steak dinner was served at noon by the women of the church. Speaker was O. E. Anderson, secretary of the Ohio Bankers Association of Columbus.

George Sneeringer was elected chairman and Paul Konkle secretary for the business meeting that followed. The report of Paul Konkle showed that the bank now has total resources of over $2,000,000. He stated that the bank reached total resources of $1,000,000 in 1943 and has grown steadily since.

The report of the nominating committee composed of Charles Barton, Byrne Weininger and Robert Gilliland resulted in the election of the following directors: Meric Alan Curlis, W. D. Curlis, F. J. Ellis, George Eyestone, N. V. Fox, Paul Konkle, George Lust, Frank Needs, George Sneeringer, Carl Stuckey and W. D. Tschanen. New directors are Meric Curlis and Stuckey. The directors organized by electing George Lust, bank president; George Sneeringer, vice president; Paul Konkle, cashier; Georgis Stubbs, assistant cashier; Wayne Curlis, teller; Carol Beard, bookkeeper; and Jessie Gregory, janitor.

Our Oldest Struggle

It is a mistake to take our constitutional government for granted.

There must be an endless struggle to preserve it from its enemies. It can be saved only by tireless effort.

The struggle now moves into the newest of a long succession of renewals — the second session of the 83rd Congress.

The oldest issue in United States politics is going to be revived — the issue of executive vs. legislative dominance of the federal government.

It is Dwight Eisenhower's political fate to be in the White House at the instant in history when there has been a strong popular and legislative reaction from 19 years of actual and attempted executive dominance.

It is the American people's political fate that their President has come to this instant with a conviction that he and the legislature can get together; that they should not try to browbeat each other into submission.

The cynics of politics are saying that Mr. Eisenhower either will have to change his mind or be driven into political ruin by the determined Congressmen who intend to dominate him.

Optimists about America are saying there can be a compromise, as there always is when men of good faith want to reach an agreement.

This compromise, or the lack of a compromise, will be the thing to watch as events in Washington come back into the news. Government, being a microcosm of life itself, is an endless struggle.

Opposing factions are tagged, for the sake of convenience, as good or as evil. The trick is to strike a workable and fairly equitable balance between them.

No one so far has done this any better than it has been done in the United States since 1789—startig what now has become the 165th year of continuous struggle to maintain the sovereign rights of the American people.

The renewal of the struggle is a sign of health, not of illness.

Eye-Opener for a Queen

Among the newsworthy pictures recording the globe-trotting of young Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, our favorite to date is the one showing the royal couple wearing tribal robes in New Zealand.

Off to one side and in the background are loyal British subjects wearing bludgeons. The scene is faintly reminiscent of Cal Coolidge among the American Indians, except for one important detail.

The American Indians were homegrown. The New Zealand tribesmen—robes, clubs, barbarism and all—are as far from the tight little British isles as it is possible to get without meeting yourself coming back.

They are part of a population loyal to the British crown which numbered more than 611,000,000 at the latest count—far and away the world's largest group of people bearing a single political allegiance.

It is an eye-opener even for Elizabeth II when she sees fragmentary evidence of the size and world scope of the British commonwealth.

Corn for the Goose

During the business - baiting days of the Rooseveltians and Trumanites, the business goose that laid the golden eggs was lucky if she didn't use up her strength dodging a tax ax.

Except for war - production purposes, it never occurred to the politicians in power then that the sturdy old bird would lay more eggs if she weren't scared half to death and run ragged.

The wisdom of using the taxing power to encourage, not discourage, business enterprise is illustrated by a routine report from Puerto Rico. Since the end of World War II its industrial growth has leaped from a few factories with a handful of employes to 262 factories with 50,000 employes. Taxes did it.

There is no U.S. income tax in the commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Local taxes are kept as low as possible, because the government's aim is to provide more, not less, employment for Puerto Ricans and more, not less, revenue for the government of Puerto Rico.

Perhaps some congressmen who never have understood how this works could go to Puerto Rico on a junket and find out.

And Wives

These juicy items of political news from Yugoslavia, such as the wife trouble that has broken out in high official circles, tell more about the future of Communism than a dozen books by Lenin and Stalin.

The Yugoslav wife trouble is typical of the kind of trouble big-shot political figures run into everywhere on earth. The old wives, jealous of their position, gang up to put some official's new wife in her place—and the fight is on.

The new wife in Yugoslavia is a 21-year-old movie actress named Milena Vrajakova. She is married to the chief of staff of Yugoslavia's army, Col. Gen. Peko Dapcevic. The plus-21's are giving her the freeze-out. The fight is on.

Our bet is on Milena to win with a toss of her pretty head and for Tito and the superstate to finish last.

Fateful Warning

Dulles Gives Clear Statement of U.S. Attitude

What John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, told the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, and simultaneously the nation by radio and television network, is more revealing as a statement of American foreign policy than anything said since the Eisenhower administration began.

It tells why the military budget is being cut and how the United States is embarking on a long-range program in the world that is not geared merely to emergencies but to a definite plan of defense for all purposes.

Many people must have wondered how troops could be withdrawn from Korea now, why plans were being made for less American manpower in Europe and for substantial cuts in conventional military services.

THE ANSWER is given by Dulles, and it is to be found in this paragraph of his address:

"Before military planning could be changed, the President and his advisers, as represented by the National Security Council, had to make some basic policy decisions. This has been done. The basic decision was to depend primarily upon a great capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our choosing. Now the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can shape our military establishment to fit what is our policy, instead of having to try to be ready to meet the enemy's many choices. That permits of a selection of military means instead of a multiplication of means. As a result, it is now possible to get, and share, more basic security at less cost."

The secretary of state isn't to be expected to disclose military measures, but the plain meaning of his remarks is that the United States is relying on the atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb and every atomic weapon in its arsenal to repel any military aggression that might come from the Communists in the future.

IT MUST necessarily mean that all plans to outlaw atomic weapons such as Soviet Russia has been proposing have been abandoned and such a ban will never be accepted unless there are such foolproof safeguards as to insure no possibility of an aggression anyhow.

This means a system of inspection and an assured method of preventing aggression — which, of course, the present rulers in Moscow are not likely to approve.

So, for all practical purposes, the United States has decided on a retaliatory defense — a defense that doesn't require massive land armies to win an objective but enough striking power from the overseas bases by our air force as well as from aircraft carriers of the Navy to make sure that the enemy will not launch an attack in the first place.

Dulles points out that the policies adopted by the Truman-Acheson administration in Turkey and Greece and through the European Recovery Plan were good but that America was obliged to fight an "emergency action," when it is of the utmost importance to develop a program for the long range.

HE DECLARES that the "long-time" factor is of critical importance and he hints that a strategy must be adopted by America which can be judged adequate not merely because it wards off "immediate danger" but because of what it accomplishes over what the Soviets call "an entire historical era."

The secretary says it 'wasn't "sound military strategy to commit our army to fight land battles in Asia,' 'and that this was our decision prior to 1950. Incidentally, Gen. Eisenhower participated in that decision when he was Chief of Staff of the Army. Dulles says "It was Soviet-inspired action that pulled us back" into Korea. Dulles might have added that, while the decision to intervene and to repel aggression in Korea was correct, the failure of the previous administration to provide in advance the military sinews for such a campaign in Korea and later its refusal to use maximum power — which apparently now is being sanctioned—was responsible for the lack of military victory and for what is known as "The Korean Mess."

RELIANCE is placed by Dulles on the "strategic reserve" idea, which means a mobile force. He says it was never "sound military strategy permanently to commit U.S. land forces to Asia to a degree that leaves us no strategic reserves."

He says, too, it was "not sound economics, or good foreign policy, to support permanently other countries; for in the long run, that creates as much ill will as good will."

Statements such as these could not possibly be made today by a spokesman for the United States government if it were not for a basic decision to use maximum military power — including all atomic weapons — if Soviet Russia starts aggression.

That is a fateful warning and one needed to be given.

A Touch of Ginger

By TRUMAN TWILL

Thanks to the Associated Press, an up-to-date report has been issued on an American who had unique influence on millions of his contemporaries a few years ago.

Most of us were younger than he was while this was happening, though we felt as if we were drawing on him for some of the enthusiasm of our formative years. He was Henry L. Mencken, now ill and alone in his Hollins Street house in Baltimore.

He has been partly paralyzed and blind since 1948. In 1950 a severe heart attack added to his burden of decrepitude. But the Associated Press has let us know in an interview written by William Manchester that our favorite ginger applier of years gone by still hasn't lost his touch.

Manchester, who has written Menchen's life under the apt title, "Disturber of The Peace," reports that his fellow Baltimorean and Sunpaperman is still able to lay it on hot and heavy when the mood strikes him. The difference is these days that the mood doesn't strike him often.

There is no counterpart of Mencken around these days. It's as though the rising generation were being forced to live on a diet without salt, pepper, paprika, cinnamon—and ginger. These and more were provided in abundance by Mencken in his era of influence.

He got under the hides of the smug. He put burrs under the tails of the complacent. He threw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder, pulled the stuffing out of the stuffed shirts and desecrated many things which a little later on ceased to be holy.

He was to the Baltimore Sun what William Allen White was to the Emporia Gazette, only more so. He had versatility, wit, a razor-edged scalpel, a thorn club and an utterly ruthless disregard for the proprieties to add momentum to his star while it was rising.

He was a writer, editor, magazine luminary and a book author, along with being a phrase-maker, a literary notable, an amateur musician and a tireless exemplar of the full and cultured life.

All these things we knew about him while we were reading what he had to say, especially in the old American Mercury. We never saw him and never expected to see him. It wouldn't have occurred to anyone in those days to invade his privacy lest he flay the intruder to death with his tongue.

There was nothing milk-toastish about H.L.M. He roared with rage against everything he found wrong in the Bible Belt, where most of us lived. He roared with laughter at the foibles of his times, many of them not considered to be foibles by those who cherished them.

Nothing was off limits to H. L. Mencken, it seemed.

He was disrespectful. He did in his way some of the good that George Bernard Shaw did in his Shavian manner. But Mencken had hone of the vegetarian zealot in him. He loved beer, good companions, music and Baltimore when he was not cocking a critical ear for the overtones of the American language and the undertones of decadence.

As we said at the beginning, Mencken had an effect on millions of us when all of us were younger. Things that didn't add up never were the same after they had been menckenized. He had an unerring instinct for spotting the subtractables and throwing them into the discard.

It's good to know he's still alive, though it would be better to know that he had his eyesight and all his health. We need an H. L. Mencken. We need a Will Rogers. We need someone to apply the ginger.

Platform for '54

Gains in Senate Foreseen for GOP

By Jay G. Hayden

If President Eisenhower heeds the advice of his purely political advisers, his pending second message on the state of the union will be directed to two purposes—first to hang on to the existing Republican predominance in agricultural regions and, second, to pick up strength among industrial workers.

Unless he is to have an extremely hard row to hoe over the next two years, Mr. Eisenhower must strengthen his hold on Congres—now measured by a two-vote margin in the House and the tie-breaking power of Vice-President Nixon in the Senate.

As to the Senate the Republican outlook appears unusually good for two reasons. Of 34 senators up for re-election 22 are Democrats, all but two of them elected along with former President Truman in 1948. And 14 of the Democratic senators confronting the voters are from states carried by Eisenhower in 1952, as against only one Republican (Cooper of Kentucky) from a state carried by Adlai Stevenson.

If Mr. Eisenhower holds his own between now and November, the Republicans should gain Senate seats.

THE HOUSE prospect, in contrast, appears on its face to favor the Democrats. In 1952 the Republicans came close to a clean sweep of agricultural districts in the North and West and even dipped into the erstwhile Democratic Solid South. The Republicans have little room for gain in the farming regions, and if current reports are true there is growing discontent among the agricultural lists.

Of 435 congressional districts, 85 were carried in 1952 by margin of five per cent or less. The great majority of that group—presently standing 45 Democratic to 40 Republican—are urban industrial districts.

Thus, if the Republicans gain substantially in the House it will have to be mainly by increasing their strength among city residents, especially factory and mine workers.

The bulk of the eight districts are in 10 states, as follows:

California eight, presently divided equally between Republicans and Democrats. Nearly all of these districts are in or close to Los Angeles or San Francisco.

All Democratic-held California districts are preponderantly urban excepting the 19-county second which Rep. Engle has represented through six consecutive elections, usually with the nomination of both Democratic and Republican parties.

Of four hairline districts in Illinois three are in Chicago, two Democratic and one Republican. The fourth, now represented by Peter F. Mack, Democrat, consists of 10 counties reaching from mid-state to the Indiana line.

Three close districts in Maryland—two Democrat and one Republican—all touch the city of Baltimore.

In Massachusetts four close districts are equally divided party-wise, the 2nd embracing Springfield and the 4th Worcester, Democratic, and the 8th and 10th in the Boston area, Republican.

In Michigan the three closest districts are the 6th, including Lansing and Flint, represented by Kit Clardy, Republican, and the 14th and 17th on opposite edges of Detroit, represented respectively by Louis C. Rabaut, Democrat, and Charles G. Oakman, Republican.

Missouri is unique in that, of its four closest districts—two Democratic and two Republican—three are distinctly rural and the fourth, in Jackson County, reaches only the fringe of Kansas City.

Four close New Jersey districts—three Democrat and one Republican—all are "big city."

Of the tight ones in New York, three are in New York City—two Democrat and one Republican—and one, in Albany, Democrat.

Pennsylvania, always crucial in congressional elections, has 10 districts—six Republican and four Democrat—last won by margins ranging from 50.2 to 54.7 per cent.

Of that group two are in Philadelphia, one each in York and Reading, and the rest in coal-mining areas.

Five closely drawn West Virginia districts—three Democrat and two Republican — all include coal mines.

The heavy preponderance of manual workers in these districts, where the congressional battle this year mainly will be fought, is being advanced as reason why President Eisenhower should fight for amendment of the Taft-Hartley strike-control law in favor of organized labor.

Republican members from the farm belt argue, however, that by striving to placate the unionists their party might lose more farmer representatives than it gains from the industrial regions.

Queries for the Querulous

By MARK DANA

A number of large universities have marriage clinics or course, and dull is the week when one of them does not pop into the news with some ultra-solemn or purposefully frivolous commentary on how marriages are arranged by rules.

With no pun on the pedagogical idea intended, there are two schools of thought on this subject. One contends with a romantic sigh that love is all. The other campus, figuratively speaking, suggests that all cardiac surges be discounted and that marital partners be picked deliberately via cerebral logic.

The Marriage Clinic of Pennsylvania State College currently is having some tangent fun with psychological tests, assured that odd questions reveal character and personality traits in men and women which may make marriage either essential or plumb foolish.

If a girl answers "no" to a query whether non - property owners should be denied the vote, she should say "yes" to a proposal, it seems, and not because it is a girl's natural tendency to do that very thing. Should immigration barriers be eased, a male student may be asked. This clinic perceives high marital-happiness significance in his response, no matter what.

There is a bit more to the answers-reaction idean than this, of course, and practically every self-appointed expert on the perennial theme proclaims that at least 10 minutes before a young couple marches to the altar they should compare notes on what they believe on a lot of subjects.

Like the football T-formation, Einstein's theory, whether Mozart had anything on Bach, the best time to set a hen, and such major keys to happiness. This particular marriage clinic also urges girls, if possible, to get married before they are 26. Think of a girl going to school for such instruction!

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The first entry on the journal of the Marion Board of Education bore the date of April 19, 1851. It read: "Pursuant to public (notice) given according to an act of the Legislature passed February 21, 1849, entitled, 'An act for the better regulation of schools in towns, cities, etc., the legal voters of the town of Marion, Marion County, Ohio, met in the courthouse in said town on Saturday, the 19th day of April, 1851, and organized by appointing J. R. Knapp, chairman, Jacob Burger, assistant chairman and E. Peters, clerk. Whereupon, the meeting proceeded to vote by ballot for and against the adoption of said above mentioned act, the result of which ballot was 60 votes for and nine votes against the adoption. Whereupon said act was declared duly adopted. Whereupon the meeting adjourned." The entry was signed by John R. Knapp, chairman and E. Peters, secretary.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Early January Portrait

There's only one thing that disappears faster than a jet plane, crashing the sound barrier with the same ease. It's the world's mood of only a few days back — the mood of Christmas and New Year's. Now the tree so radiantly beautiful as it held children spellbound and comforted adults with blessed memories lies stripped and yellowing in a gutter, a public dump or in an ashcan, a depressing symbol of the impermanence of man's sentiments; now the cards which cheered you so much are packed in the attic, the wreaths gone, the toys busted. "Silent Night" is heard nowhere, white whiskers have turned into professional Van Dykes and a reindeer couldn't get the right time from us.

Not so many hours ago the spell of New Year's Eve gripped the hand with good wishes, sincere handshakes, the melody of New Year bells and a dedication of "to better deeds" evident everywhere. It's like the swift descent in a suddenly disabled elevator, a fall with a parachute that is slow to open.

The holly wreath is replaced by a "Business As Usual" sign, all the colored lights seem to be on delicatessen stores and beer stores.

"What's new?" has replaced "A Merry Christmas to everyone" and "No matter who's calling say I'm in conference' " is now subbing for "Glad to see you, Happy New Year!" The people who warmed up to one another so completely at the office parties are back on the old "The face is failiar but I don't recall the name," basis.

A million street and department store Santas who were tenderly patting kiddies on the back and uttering gentle thoughts in the sweetest tones have returned to those numerous other fields of employment where "Sez you!" "Oh, yeah!" and "Get lost, Buster!" are the predominant messages. The fellow who sent what you thought the kindliest of New Year cards is snapping. "Cant's you see I'm busy?"

Dramatic critiques for 1953: "Kismet." . . . (Dial B for Bagdad); "The Prescott Proposals." . . . (Life With U. N.); "J. M. Anderson's Almanac." . . . (The Solid Gold Gingold); "Victor Borge." . . . (The Piano and I); "Kind Sir." . . . (The Krasna Proposals); "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" . . . (The Psychiatric House of the August Moon); "The Solid Gold Cadillac." . . . (Oh, Proxy! Oh, Proxy Holder!)

The New York taxi situation has become desperate, not so much because of the long cabs as the short tempers.

There are leading Democrats who are going to find it more than they can bear if there is no serious business slump in 1954. Sen. Paul Douglas talks as if he might use somebody if he doesn't get a genuine depression.

Columbia University is celebrating its 200th birthday. When you realize how many drugstore luncheonettes there are in the vicinity you wonder how it ever lived that long.

CAB Hearing On Ohio Airline Service Ended

Examiner Hears Last Of Oral Testimony In Week-Long Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The decision on whether Ohio gets extended air service is now in the hands of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

CAB Examiner William J. Madden heard the last of oral testimony in a week-long hearing yesterday. He gave parties in the case—three airlines and many interested cities—until Feb. 23 to file summary briefs. He will consider the evidence then and make a recommendation to the CAB.

One thing became apparent from the six days of testimony: Ohio wants more air service—and wants it badly. If the CAB decided to grant it, it will have to make up its mind which of three competing lines will best be able to provide it.

Eastern Airlines wants to operate a one-plane trunkline service linking Detroit, Columbus, Charleston, W. Va., and major southeastern cities.

Lake Central Airlines wants to link Charleston and Columbus with Detroit via Lima and Toledo.

Piedmont Aviation, Inc., proposes to extend its system north from Charleston to Columbus by way of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Marietta.

Highlighting yesterday's session was a dispute beween Trans World Airlines, Inc., and Eastern and Lake Central airlines.

J. C. Constantz of Washington, D. C., TWA's director of regulatory procedures, said TWA's business would suffer if Eastern or Lake Central is granted a Detroit-Toledo-Columbus-south route. TWA has a route linking Detroit, Toledo, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati and says competition would be "wasteful."

Under examination, Constantz admitted TWA has engaged in "very preliminary" talks with Delta-C&S Airlines over sale of its Detroit-Cincinnati leg.

William M. Corry, director of the Zanesville Chamber of Commerce, asked for north-south service for his city. Zanesville has no north-south rail service, he said, and two of its six daily east-west flights, those eastbound to Youngstown, provide "no real service."

TRANSPORT DOCKS

SEATTLE (AP)—The Navy transport Gen. H. J. Gaffey docked here yesterday with 1,576 passengers from the Far East, half of them Air Force men.

Officer Wasn't Kidding About Thefts of Bicycles

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Police officer E. E. Arnold, an expert on recovery of stolen bicycles, gave a reporter lots of good advice yesterday on how youngsters could prevent so many thefts.

"They'll steal the wheels off bicycles, even if you've got them locked up," Arnold said.

Then officer Arnold took the reporter to the city pound, where recovered bicycles are kept locked up until claimed.

Burglars had stolen all the wheels.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Taxi Driver Robert Louis Stevenson told Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay that 16 pounds of butter and nine pounds of coffee stolen from two supermarkets were left in his cab by another man.

"I'd say you were literally left holding the bag," Hannay said. He ordered Stevenson, 26, to serve nine remaining months of a previous sentence for forgery.

Morrow Clinics Depend on Campaign

Money for Chest X-Rays Comes From Sale Of TB Seals

MT. GILEAD — Periodic chest clinics at Morrow County Hospital here are a part of the year-round Morrow County tuberculosis detection and treatment program made available through the purchase of Christmas seals.

Discovery of active and inactive cases of tuberculosos in Morrow County is carried on by the Morrow Association through funds from the County Tuberculosis and Health yearly Christmas seal sale. Members of the TB and health group have set up the chest clinics in cooperation with the hospital, doctors with case referrals and Dr. Alexander Mack, of the Avalon Sanitorium, Mt. Vernon, who is consultant to the Morrow County Health Clinic.

The entire chest X-ray program of the 52-year-old health work organization is carried on as an aid to family physicians who care for these patients. When suspects are found, the objective is to protect society from carriers and to restore the patient to normal health.

So that the chest clinic and health program may be carried on, much team work is brought into play. First the health department must plan with the hospital for arrangements in cooperation with the TB and Health Association which takes care of the costs for X-rays and consultants. These expenses are paid with collections from the Christmas seal sales.

MORROW COUNTY HEALTH NURSE Mrs. Irene McClelland looks on as Dr. Alexander Mack, consultant to the Morrow County Health Clinic, gives notes to Sally Linville, hospital technician and nurse. The three chest X-ray pictures of a child now living at the new children's home under the care of the county welfare division are shown in the background.

Embezzlements Blamed On Cost of High Living

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—It's not the high cost of living that causes bank embezzlements. It's the cost of high living.

That's the explanation of a Washington, D. C., certified public accountant, who said last night 110 banks in 34 states had been forced to close during the last 20 years because of embezzlements.

Lester A. Pratt told the Central New York Conference, National Assn. of Bankers and Auditors:

"Desire takes on many forms, but for the most part they can be grouped under the heading of 'slow horses and fast women.'"

Accordionist Contino's Hitch in Korea Is Over

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sgt. Richard J. Contino, $4,000-a-week accordionist in civilian life who entered the Army after a prison term for draft evasion, will return from Korea next Tuesday aboard the transport General Gordon.

And he will soon be back in civilian life and the show business, his family said in Pasadena.

The 23-year-old Contino is one of 375 Army troops and 324 Marines coming back on the Gordon. Fellow soldiers in Korea said they found him a "regular guy."

Problem for Police

ALBER-QUICHE, N. M. (AP)—At least that's the way a Michigan man spelled it when he wrote Albuquerque police asking help in finding his mother.

The letter, addressed to the "Alber-Quichie Kart House" presented officers a worse difficulty than spelling: though he wants to find his mother, he doesn't know her first name.

GOES TOO SLOW

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A cabin crane driver got a ticket yesterday for going 15 miles an hour on an expressway—where the minimum speed is 40.

Case of Measles Needed By Kentucky Child, 2

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—Anybody got a case of red measles they'll share with Shirley Ann Thurmond?

The 2½-year-old girl is suffering with nephrosis, a kidney disease, and her doctor thinks measles would help combat the more serious malady.

But Henderson County doesn't have a single case of red measles in the infectious stage. The child would have to be exposed to a case during the incubation period.

Her father, Eugene Thurmond, said:

"We would take her any place if we could find a case in the right stage."

CLEAN BREAST

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Police were startled when, after questioning Richard H. Lewis about a minor theft, they asked the routine question, "Have you any more to say?", and he confessed to eight unsolved burglaries dating back five months. "I didn't want anybody to serve time for something I did," Lewis explained.

The word "coin" originally meant the wedge-shaped die used for stamping coins but was later transferred to the piec of metal money so stamped.

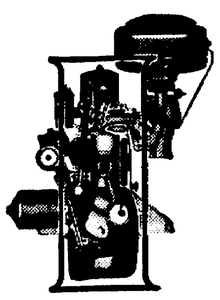
New 115-h.p. I-BLOCK SIX
Like the new V-8, this new Six has an extra-deep block for greater rigidity ... smoother, quieter performance ... and longer engine life. It's the industry's most modern Six.
Free-turning overhead valves, high-turbulence combustionchambers, low-friction design and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot help produce 14% more power—with finer performance on even less gas.


DIVIDEND IN DRIVING EASE
Ford offers five optional power assists* you might expect to find only in America's costliest cars
Master-Guide power steering does up to 75% of your steering work, yet leaves you with natural steering "feel" on the straightaways. Swift Sure Power Brakes do up to one-third of the work in stopping. Fordomatic Drive gives torque converter smoothness and the "Go" of automatic mechanical gears. And only Ford in its field offers Power-Lift Windows, both front and rear, that open or close at a button's touch ... and a 4-Way Power Seat that adjusts up and down, as well as front and back, at a touch of the controls. They're all worthwhile optional extras available in the 1954 Ford!

*At extra cost.

ERIC WILLIAMS
To Serve As Instructor

Classes in Human Relations Planned By Foremen's Club

Beginning next Thursday, Eric Williams, state supervisor of the northwest district of the vocational education section, will present a course in human relations, sponsored by the Marion Foreman's Club.

Williams is a former teacher and supervisor of trades and industries at Harding High School.

The development of the course is based on the belief that fundamental principles of good supervisor-employe relations can be analyzed and expressed in concrete, workable elements which simplify and help clarify the complicated subject of human relations. The material to be presented has been drawn from the work experience of successful supervisors who have recognized and practiced the principles of good human relations. A step-by-step lesson break-down of each session with leader guides will be provided.

Registrations and reservations will be handled by Emil J. Lisak, adult education director at Marion Harding High School, phone 2-0235.

Unemployment Called Serious in Oregon Crisis

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon Democrats have urged Gov. Paul L. Patterson to call a special session of the Legislature to deal with "the deepening economic crisis."

A letter signed by the Democratic party's four top officials in the state said unemployment in Oregon was "the most critical of all 48 states."

The State Unemployment Commission recently reported 12 per cent of Oregon's workers were jobless, with a half-dozen cities reporting unemployment at 22 per cent.

The governor made no immediate response.

51ST ARREST

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A 76-year-old Idaho Falls man was fined $25 in police court yesterday for intoxication.

It was the 51st arrest for the retired laborer since 1922. Idaho Falls police believe that is a record for one man in this city.

Two Injured In Auto Crash West of Marion

LaRue Man, Marion County Girl Suffer Bruises in Collision

Two persons were slightly injured in three traffic accidents investigated by local state patrolmen in the Marion area yesterday. No injuries were reported in three city accidents.

Injured were Lawrence A. Tilton, 64, of LaRue, bruised stomach, and Mary Margaret Diehl, 16, of near Marion, bruised forehead.

Tilton was driver of a car which was involved in a collision with a car driven by Carl Diehl, 49, of near Marion at the intersections of Route 95 and Marion County Road 84 west of Marion at 5:10 p.m. yesterday. Miss Diehl was a passenger in the Diehl car.

Car Badly Damaged

Patrolmen said Tilton was traveling west on Route 95 while Diehl was going south on County Road 84. There was extensive damage to the front end of the Tilton car and only moderate damage to the Diehl car.

Diehl was arrested on a charge of failure to yield the right of way and will appear in Municipal Court Saturday.

Two cars were slightly damaged in another accident yesterday at 4:55 p.m. on Route 95 at its intersection with Route 98 east of Marion.

Cars driven by Luther Glenn Wrenn, 27, of 368 Summit St. and Mary Fisher of 288 E. Walnut St. collided at the intersection.

The Wrenn car was traveling west on Route 95 while the Fisher car was going south on Route 98 and turning west onto Route 95, patrolmen said.

Driver Cited

Mary Fisher was arrested on a charge of failure to yield the right of way and cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday.

The third accident occurred yesterday at 6:30 p.m. on Route 95, only eight-tenths of a mile east of Marion.

Patrolmen said a car driven by Paul E. Drake, 23, of 137½ Garden St., traveling west, left the road and struck a culvert, resulting in extensive damage to the right side of the car. The driver was uninjured.

Drake told patrolmen he guided his car off the right side of the road in order to avoid a collision with an oncoming car which was passing another.

Three Marion Mishaps

Ice-covered streets in Marion early this morning were blamed for three minor traffic accidents investigated by city police and brought forth a word of caution from Police Chief Tom Coon, who urged drivers to use extreme care.

Cars driven by William J. Thomas, 47, of 518 S. Prospect St. and G. A. Glassmeyer, 60, of 224 Gurley Ave. were involved in a mishap at S. Prospect and Hill Sts. at 8:44 a.m. Police reported Glassmeyer's car skidded into the rear of the Thomas car.

Two parked cars were slightly damaged when a truck apparently skidded into them sometime this morning. The cars, owned by Andrew J. Evans and Darrell Pierce, both of 669½ N. Main St. were parked in front of the apartment building and skid marks from a dual truck tire indicated it had hit Pierce's car pushing it forward into Evans' car, police said. Police investigated the accident at 7:32 a.m.

Cars driven by Clarence D. Greer, 21, of 336 Hane Ave. and Betty Lou Hubbard, 25, of 325½ Franklin Ave. collided at E. Church and S. Greenwood St. at 8:57 a.m. today.

With more snow and colder weather predicted for this afternoon and tonight, Chief Coon cautioned all motorists to be prticularly cautious on those streets where salt or cinders have not been placed by city crews.

Drive slowly and to help prevent skidding when stopping, pump the brakes gently. Do not clamp them down so hard they lock the wheels, causing the car to skid out of control, he said.

To help prevent skidding on city streets, city service department crews were called out shortly after 7:30 a.m. to spread salt and cinders on the most traveled streets and the most dangerous intersection.

Auxiliary Police And Rescue Squad Discuss Training

A training program for members of the Marion auxiliary police and rescue squads was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of the groups held last night at city hall.

William Luce, captain of the rescue squad, reported on the progress of preparing for use a state-owned Civil Defense Corps rescue truck assigned to Marion. Most of the auxiliary equipment provided with the truck has been assembled and the truck will soon be ready for use, he said.

The group discussed establishing a schedule of training for all members in the use of the truck. Scheduling of a training program in first aid was also discussed and it was decided to start this course for members of both squads as soon as Red Cross first aid instructors are available.

A training program for members of the police squad in which they work with and observe regular city police in action was also discussed. Police Chief Tom Coon reported members of the auxilary squad have already tallied some 1,000 hours of this type of training. Charles Knachel is captain of the auxiliary police.

the record as a prerequisite to resuming the preliminary talks. The Red Liaison officers reportedly refused to discuss it.

The Communist Peiping radio has insisted repeatedly that the perfidy charge never would be retracted and that Red liaison officers would discuss only a time for resumption of the preliminary talks.

Young talked with newsmen after liaison officers' session adjourned for the day.

"Visibility was zero when we drove up here this morning," he said as he watched big wet snowflakes drift down on this bleak village. "Whether the visibility will be any better tomorrow or the overcast will lift perceptibly, I don't know at the moment."

Young said Edwin Martin, the U. N. Command representative, "proposed to discuss several conditions and aspects of the record of previous talks and how they could be handled and corrected."

The State Department official declined to elaborate, but it was apparent the U. N. Command wanted a retraction or modification of the Communist perfidy charge.

Study Group Says Army In Need of Overhauling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army was told today it needs two new major commands and a thorough overhaul of its supply and trailnng systems to meet the long pull tests of peace, half-war or another world conflict.

A committee composed of four businessmen and one general also called for strengthening the authority of the secretary of the Army and protecting it against absorption by the secretary of defense and his staff.

Reporting to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, the committee aimed its strongest criticisms and its major recommendations at the Army's supply system and technical services. It characterized their direction as sometimes "confusing" and their authority as often "diluted" to such point that these services would be inadequate in the event of another full-scale mobilization.

The report specifically called for creation of a third assistant secretary of the Army, for financial management, a second vice chief of staff, for supply, and establishment of a continental Army command and a supply command.

The committee also sought to restore and clarify some of the Army secretary's authority under the unified Defense Department. The report said the Army secretary should:

1. Take an active part in formulation by the secretary of defense of policies guilding the Army.

2. Regularly attend meetings of the National Security Council, the top executive group on national policy, as an observer.

3. Not have his authority "diluted by the intervention" of assistant defense secretaries or "diminished by contradictory" authority running from the Defense Department to the Army secretary's inferiors.

The report advocated defining the Army chief of staff's role as "operating manager" for the Army, "fully accountable to the Army secretary."

The proposed new vice chief for supply, a five-star general, would take over considerable detail in one big field.

The commander of the proposed supply command would answer to the chief of staff for all seven technical services—medical, ordnance, engineers, quartermaster, transportation, signal, and chemical — which now employ nearly one third of the Army's military and civilian personnel.

The proposed continental Army commander would supervise the present six armies and the military district of Washington, and be responsible for all combat training at all levels, now the responsibility of 15 agencies. His headquarters, the committee recommended, should be away from Washington.

The committee said civilian subordinates of the secretary should "help the military machine to work, not take it over."

The report rejected the recurring proposal that a civilian department of government should take over the civil functions of the Army Engineers.

The committee was appointed by Stevens at the request of Secretary of Defense Wilson after President Eisenhower last year said "improvements are badly needed" in the three military departments.

THE LEGIONS of marchers are not yet complete and volunteers will be welcomed whether they are mothers, fathers, bachelors, uncles, aunts or nephews. Those wishing to enlist can do so by telephoning 2-3757 or 3-7628.

Assisting the general publicity chairman and co-chairman will be the following special committees headed by Marion residents: radio, Madge Cooper; newspaper, Cal Arnold; church and PTA, Harold Bonecutter; sound effects, Jack Carr; lighting effects, Louis Rubeck and Leroy Clauer; handbills, Charles Dunn; posters and stickers, Jack Lautenslager; retail advertising tie-in, Ernest Brady.

Funds collected in the March of Dimes are divided on a 50-50 basis between the local organization and the national foundation. Half of every dollar received is spent in Marion County for the treatment of local victims. The other half goes to the national foundation for maintaining such famous institutions as Warm Springs Foundation in Georgia, and to provide for constant research work, better treatment and care for polio sufferers.

The local Mothers' March on Polio is a part of a vast, nationwide effort on the part of mothers to strike a telling blow against polio.

the breach later to save Eisenhower and the country."

Seek Compromise

Brownell and Dulles have been negotiating with Bricker in an effort to get the Ohioan to modify his amendment, adoption of which they contend would hamstring the President's authority to deal with other nations.

Bricker has stuck to his guns, aided by strong backing from the American Bar Assn. and a write-in campaign. Some senators said they are receiving as many as 200 letters a day urging approval of his proposal.

Eminent lawyers disagree as to whether it is true, as Bricker contends, that basic guarantees in the U. S. Constitution could be whittled away by international treaties.

Some lawmakers say there is a good chance for an agreement between Bricker and the administration on the amendment, listed as the Senate's next major business after current debate on the St. Lawrence seaway.

First Big Test

The Bricker proposal thus apparently will provide the first test of the President's Capitol Hill strength within his own party and as well as gauge to the amount of Democratic support he might expect on some other issues.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday the Founding Fathers wisely had provided that when a treaty was properly ratified it should take precedent over any state law, including state constitutions. When he deals with other nations, he said, he must speak for one government and not be involved in representing 48 states.

He said he was glad to agree that any treaty or executive agreement that contravened the federal Constitution was void. But he said he wouldn't go back to the system under the Articles of Confederation—before the Constitution was adopted — where individual states could reject treaties.

Bricker, in a statement, said he disagreed with Eisenhower and he added:

"He believes that the federal government, merely by making a promise to another country, should be able to clothe itself with authority inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States."

Music Night Set Aside in Crusade Here

Tonight will be Music Night at the union Spiritual Victory Crusade service at Epworth Methodist Church with a concert of piano numbers by Rev. Laurie F. Taylor. A short sermon by Rev. "Charlie" Taylor will be on "Who Is Jesus?" The special meetings are being held in Marion by the Taylor Brothers under auspices of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

On Wednesday night, the evangelist spoke on "Asleep in Church." He declared that "If the church worked like the Devil, it would soon change society. Of course modern church members don't believe in any personal Devil any more, but if there is no Devil, who is doing his dirty business?"

"Here is a strange fact," he said. The church has more members today than ever before in its history, but there is more drunkenness, more immorality, more juvenile delinquency, and more infidelity than ever before, and the Devil laughts," he said.

"So long as the church sleeps, the Devil's business thrives. So long as we complacently pat ourselves on the back for our goodness and our respectability the more easily Satan can take our children and destroy our homes. Until the church wakes up to the fact that the forces of evil are out to destroy all that is good, there will be no genuine change in human society. It will be just whitewash with the old dirt underneath. Christ wants our help on His side. Are we giving it?" he asked.

For tonight's concert numbers, the pianist will play his arrangement of "A Chorale Hymn," "Italian Concerto," Bach, "Le Coucou," Dauquin, "Caprise," Scarletti, "Moonlight Sonata," Beethoven, "Shepherd Boy" Wilson, "Shepherds Hey," Granger, and three selections by Chopin, "Nocturne," "Waltz," and "Polonaise in A Flat," said to be the most brilliant number for piano ever composed.

status at midnight Jan. 22, when they must be released.

Thimayya stressed that India was returning the captives as prisoners, not civilians. He warned both commands that if they change their status they will "not be in conformity" with the armistice.

Thimayya said the NNRC interprets the armistice agreement to mean that the two commands cannot free the prisoners, once they are returned, until all have received explanations and the peace conference has discussed the future of the nonrepats—or both commands agree otherwise.

Will Start at 9 A.M.

His letter asked the Allies and Reds to accept returned prisoners at 9 a.m. Wednesday at the northern and southern boundaries of the demilitarized zone. Both sides were asked to reply by Saturday.

An Indian spokesman said the two commands were asked whether they are prepared to receive the POWs, not whether they agreed with the Indian move to pull out of the dispute over whether the captives should be freed by midnight Jan. 22.

Referring to the fact that comehome explanations to the balking POWs broke down and most captives never were interviewed, Thimayya said the Indian decision was reached because the terms of the armistice for reluctant POWs had not been carried out.

Eisenhower

of the disabled. Eisenhower recommended the benefits of a worker who has a substantial work record in employment covered by social security insurance, and who becomes totally disabled for an extended time, be maintained at the amount he would have received had he become 65 and retired on the date his disability began.

The President said he had been informed by Secretary Hobby that the net additional cost of the program the administration presented to Congress would be, on a long-term basis, about 1½ of 1 per cent of the annual payrolls subject to old age insurance taxes. He made no actual dollar and cents estimate of the cost.

The President said the cost would be met for at least the next 15 to 25 years under the future increases in taxes already provided in the law.

Present law calls for a gradual maximum of 3 per cent each on workers and employers.

Under present law the social security tax will increase gradually to a maximum of 3¼ per cent each on employes and on employers starting Jan. 1, 1970.

The tax went up to 2 per cent on Jan. 1. The next scheduled boost is to 2½ per cent on each Jan. 1, to 1960 and then a raise to 3 per cent is set for Jan. 1, 1965.

After setting out his six point program, Eisenhower also dealt at some length with the public assistance phases of the social security set up.

He told legislators "an important by-product of the extension of the protection of the (old age insurance) system and the increase in its benefit scale is the impact, on public assistance programs."

Under such programs, states and localities provide assistance to the needy aged, dependent children, blind persons, and the permanently and totally disabled, with the federal government sharing in the cost.

Eisenhower said under his recommendation for broadening the coverage of the social security program, the proportion of the aged population eligible for benefits would increase from 45 per cent to 75 per cent in the next 5 or 6 years.

He added while some measure of public assistance will continue, the expanded coverage program would progressively reduce the need for public assistance payments.

Accordingly, he recommended the formula for federal sharing in the public assistance program "reflect this changing relationship without prejudicing in any manner the receipt of public assistance payments by those whose need for these payments will continue."

He added private and group savings, insurance and pension plans "are a primary means of protection against the economic hazards of old age and death."

But he said they should be supplemented by "a basic, nationwide protection" provided through the government's social insurance system.

He recommended the first $1,600 of a beneficiary's annual earnings be exempted from the retirement test, and that for amounts earned above $1,000 only one month's benefit be deducted for each additional $80 earned. Under the present law the first $900 of annual earnings are exempted.

Illustrating the effect of the change he proposed, the President said it would work this way:

"A beneficiary could take a $200 a month job for 5 months without losing any benefits, whereas under present law he would lose 5 month's benefits. He could work throughout the year at $90 a month and lose only 1 month, whereas under the present law he would lose all 12."

Eisenhower previously had urged expanding the Old Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI) program to cover almost the entire working population. This would add about 10½ million doctors, lawyers, farmers and others who are excluded now.

But some of these groups already have served notice they will fight against being brought under a compulsory government insurance program.

Eisenhower also had promised "substantial benefit increases." About six million retired workers, their wives, widows or orphans, are drawing monthly payments from the program now.

reckless flying will not be tolerated in this area."

Maximum disciplinary action would be revocation of Godfrey's pilot's license.

Glass claimed the wind, when Godfrey took off, was at 20 to 30 miles an hour.

From the information he had, Glass said, "it would appear that the aircraft was operated carelessly and recklessly and in disregard of the traffic pattern described for Teterboro Airport in violation of . . . civil air regulations."

Glass said the airport manager checked wind velocity right after the incident. Two other planes had cleared the same runway a few minutes before Godfrey took off.

"Neither of the aircraft taking off before the DC3 experienced any difficulties," Glass went on, "although both of them are far lighter than the DC3."

In his telecast last night, Godfrey said the CAA had not contacted him on the matter, and added:

"I will be happy to cooperate with the Port of New York Authority or anyone else who might want to investigate the takeoff."

In a Florida press conference yesterday, Godfrey said:

"Jimminy, I thought everybody knew what happened. The big trouble is that the Port of New York Authority closed one runway because planes using it—in calm weather — had to fly over Hasbrouck Heights, N.J.

"That's okay in calm weather, but in windy weather the runway designated for use frequently requires a cross-wind takeoff. That's what happened to me.

". . . I came pretty close to the control tower, close enough, in fact, to note that nobody was visible in the tower. I don't blame them for getting out, but it wasn't intentional."

later Moon attempted suicide.

"All he wanted to do was to ask Moon why he wasn't complying with a court order to pay his estranged wife $30 a week," explained Coroner Ed Lowrey.

"As Moon came forward from where he had been sitting in the spectators' section, he pulled a revolver from his pocket," Lowery said. "He took a shot at the district attorney and missed. Then he shot at his wife's attorney and missed again.

"He kept walking, in sort of a semi-circle, toward the judge's bench. When Moon started to walk up the steps the judge backed away and grabbed a chair.

Hydraulic Press Factory Toured by Engineers' Society

The Marion County Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers recently toured both plants of the Hydraulic Press Mfg. Co. in Mt. Gilead following a dinner in Mt. Gilead.

Talks on the plants and the products were given by Dean Cochran and John McCutcheon.

Members of the society were told that hydraulic presses are used throughout the world and made in sizes from rather small ones to extremely large 7,000-ton capacity presses. The larger unit requires approximately 10 or 11 railroad cars for shipment of one complete unit.

The company as present is contemplating designs for presses that could be used up to the capacity of 50,000 to 70,000 tons and possibly higher. That type of press is of new design involving special building construction to include the press.

In the tour, the society members saw many presses in various stages of manufacture and also were shown parts of the large standard 7,000-ton unit now being manufactured by the company.

The program was in charge of Homer Bates, engineer for the Hydraulic, who was assisted by others from the plant in the tour.

Suit Against Shunk Firm Is Dismissed

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll announced here today that a $10,000 action for money of C. F. Elston, Dearborn, Mich., against the Shunk Manufacturing Co., Bucyrus, has been settled out of court and dismissed with prejudice to a new action.

The case had been scheduled for jury trial here this week.

Elston, a salesman, charged that the Bucyrus concern failed to keep its end of an agreement in the sale of a hydraulic press by the plaintiff and that he was enittled to a commission of $10,000.

The plaintiff alleged that he was authoried by R. F. Allen, then general manager of the Shunk firm, to sell a 1,000 ton press for the firm with the understanding that any amount over $25,000 would represent his commission. He claimed he sold the press to the Oakland Aircraft Division of Kaiser-Frazer Corp. in Detroit for $35,000 and obtained a down payment of $12,250 from the firm. According to the plaintiff's petition, the defendant firm then failed to deliver the press or hold to its agreement.

Crash

Only five days ago Italy had another major plane tragedy when a British overseas Airways Comet jetliner plunged into the sea near Elba, killing 35 persons.

The Philippine plane hit in an open field.

Eyewitnesses told airline officials they saw the left wing of the plane afire while it was in air.

They said it then plunged with terrific speed.

Airline officials said they were almost certain Royal Jordan, a native of Boston who has lived for many years in Rome, also was aboard. Jordan was European director of the airline. The navigator was identified as Teddy Santo Domingo, a Filipino living in Rome.

County Jail, Sheriff's Residence Without Gas

The Marion County jail and sheriff's office and residence were without gas service today, as plumbers were working to repair gas leaks discovered in the building Wednesday afternoon.

The evening meal Wednesday for the prisoners had to be cooked on a hot plate, but bottled gas was expected to be installed today in time for preparing lunch. The building is also without hot water, since gas is used to heat water.

Snafu Over Berlin Talks Widens U.S.-Soviet Rift

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nothing shows better than events of the past three days the gap between the United States and Russia and how dim is the chance for agreement on their biggest problems.

After many speeches here and in Moscow about getting together, exchanges of notes extending over months, and much maneuvering the two powers reached the point of sitting down in the same room to talk.

Not talk about what they wanted to talk about. Just talk about arranging the time and place for the real talks.

The three allies—United States, Britain, France—have exchanged notes with Russia since last summer, trying to set up a meeting of their foreign ministers.

Agreement at last. They'd meet in Berlin, Jan. 25. But where in Berlin? In East Berlin, controlled by Russia? Or in West Berlin, controlled by the Western Allies?

Representatives of the four powers in Berlin met to settle the details. All this week they talked. The Russians held out for half the talks to be in East Berlin. This country wanted more than half in West Berlin.

Last night the four representatives gave up, dumped their disagreement back in the laps of higher officials.

But even if the preliminaries are settled, the United States and Russia are in complete disagreement on their major European problem: Germany.

The United States wants East and West Germany united, no doubt in the belief that the East Germans, after eight years under the Russians, would rejoice in lining up with the West Germans as United States allies.

What would this mean to the United States? Secretary of State Dulles made clear in a speech Monday night what hopes this country has for Germany.

He outlined America's new military strategy, based on West European defense against Russian attack, backed up by this country's potential for "massive" retaliation.

He said Europe cannot be defended unless Germany is allowed to rearm. He said it can't do so under the present armistice agreements, although it could join a unified European army if France agreed to go along.

But the last thing Russia wants is a rearmed Germany. It spent the past year, by many devices, trying to avoid just that.

Dulles could hardly settle with the Russians at Berlin for a disarmed Germany. And Russia could hardly yield to him.

President Eisenhower and Russia's Premier Malenkov made speeches during 1953 on relations between the two countries. In December Eisenhower suggested:

They sit down and talk about pooling some of their atomic materials for peace. If that succeeds, he indicated, maybe they could go on to talk about getting rid of the atom bomb.

Russia responded with the complaint that banning the bomb should come first, and reserved the right to talk about that if the two powers sit down to discuss peaceful use of the atom.

This week Dulles and the Russian ambassador began talks on arranging American-Russian talks on the atom, as Eisenhower suggested.

But in his Monday night talk on this country's new military strategy, Dulles said this country no longer will depend on huge armed forces, matching man for man with the Communists in the field, but will try to prevent any attack this way:

Standing ready to blast the attacker with "means of its own choosing." What means? Dulles didn't say. There's no doubt he meant atomic weapons.

Dulles, therefore, couldn't very well agree on banning the bomb.

Modern miracle for dry, lined skin!
Helena Rubinstein's New Lanolin-Vitamin Formula
For the first time in beauty history, Helena Rubinstein combines two modern miracle ingredients in her new Lanolin-Vitamin Formula — copies nature's way to help your skin look YOUNGER, SMOOTHER, SOFTER!

VITAMIN A for beauty from without... Vitamin A, recognized by medical science as the Skin Vitamin, works on the surface to melt away and actually prevent dryness and flaking.

BEAUTY FROM WITHIN... Lanolin, the beauty boon most closely resembling natural skin oils, works below the surface for all-important moisture to plump out skin, smooth out wrinkles, revive a younger look.

LANOLIN-VITAMIN FORMULA... is so readily absorbed, so grease-free you'll apply it to your skin daytimes under make-up and overnight without leaving a trace on face or pillow. For speed for ease, for fabulous results you'll say you've never used anything like it in your life!

NOTE AMBER BOTTLE: It guards high vitamin content against destructive light, preserves effectiveness for you.

NCAA Group Says Single Platoon Plan To Remain

Rules Body Levels Attack At 'Nonethical' Grid Action

By BEN FUNK

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — College football must keep its one-platoon system and must get rid of such practices as the faked injury and the sucker shift.

This verdict was handed down yesterday by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The committee turned down all efforts to liberalize the limited substitution rule which went into effect last season and proved immensely popular with football fans.

The most surprising development of the meeting was the strong condemnation of such "nonethical" practices as injury faking to stop the clock and false starts intended to pull the opposition offside.

In what appeared to be mainly a slap at Notre Dame, the committee unanimously approved a resolution declaring that injury faking is "dishonest, unsportsmanlike and contrary to the rules."

Notre Dame players were accused last season of feigning injuries in the Iowa game to stop the clock and gain time for touchdowns in the closing seconds of each half. These scores enabled the Irish to escape with a 14-14 tie.

During the 1952 season Notre Dame figured most prominently in several sucker shift incidents. Last season, there were reports of such incidents in the Southeastern and Missouri Valley conferences.

The Rules Committee said that, for the present, it would "rely on the integrity of the coaches and players rather than upon further legislation" to wipe out these unethical procedures.

If this doesn't succeed, Committee Chairman H. L. (Fritz) Crisler of the University of Michigan said, the rule book will be rewritten. Committee Secretary E. E. Wieman of the University of Denver said minor revisions may be made in the substitution rule in the future, but "two-platoon football is dead as a duck."

Major League Owners Await Contract Woes

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball club owners were in anything but a happy frame of mind today as they scanned the headlines looking for new holdouts and wondering just what their own stars would do with the contracts they were offered.

Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators already were having their troubles and contracts had been in the mails only a few days. Some clubs hadn't even sent theirs out.

Carpenter had a fourth unsigned contract — this one from Curt Simmons, his ace left-hander — on his desk, while Griffith was to get Mickey Vernon, the American League's No. 1 hitter last year, into the fold. Vernon returned the first offer.

On the more optimistic side, both the pennant winners — the world champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers — announced their first players in the fold.

The Yankees tucked away the signed documents of Harry Byrd, the pitcher they obtained from the Philadelphia Athletics last month.

Byrd is supposed to give the Bronx Bombers the insurance they need for a sixth straight flag. Apparently he was so happy to pull out of a seventh-place club that he sent the contract back posthaste.

The Dodgers reached an agreement with Captain Pee Wee Reese, the shortstop who turned down the manager's job before it was given to Walt Alston.

No terms were revealed, but Reese was said to have received about $32,000 last season and more this time.

The Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox each announced the signing of one player. The Indians added infielder Bill Glynn to their list of contented toilers, while the Red Sox hired 37-year-old Joe Dobson, who was given his unconditional release by the Chicago White Sox last season.

The Philadelphia A's signed pitchers Bob Trice and Carl Scheib, but catcher Joe Astroth, who is employed by the club as a ticket seller in the off-season, said he didn't expect much trouble in coming to an agreement.

Lions, Browns Will Collide in Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leading lights of the champion Detroit Lions and the runnerup Cleveland Browns will resume rivalries when professional football's finest all-star attraction, the annual Pro Bowl game, gets underway Sunday.

Bobby Layne, the quarterback who guided the Lions to a 17-16 title triumph over the Browns, today was named to start the game. With him in the backfield will be his teammate Doak Walker; Tank Younger of the Los Angeles Rams, and Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers, for the Western Conference squad.

Otto Graham, Cleveland's quarterback, will have in the Eastern Division team his teammate, halfback Ray Renfro and fullback Harry Jagade, and halfback Lynn Chandnois of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The fourth annual edition comes off Sunday in Memorial Coliseum and over a national television network, with the Western Division all star team favored to whip the Eastern Conference for the third straight time.

Players on the winning squad receive $700 for less than an hour's work, and the losing squadmen get $500.

Marshall Team Leads Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Marshall College of West Virginia is finding it easier to score in major college basketball than it did in the small college class last year.

NCAA Service Bureau figures released today show Marshall ranks No. 1 among the majors in games played through Tuesday, with 86.7 points a game. In 1953, it placed a third in the final small college listings.

Two three-digit performances last week brought Marshall to the top, although one was in the course of a double-overtime defeat at the hands of Miami of Ohio. In second place is Western Kentucky, unbeaten in 14 games, with 86 and third is Duke with 84.8. Tied at 84.5 points a game are Miami of Ohio, Seattle, George Washington and Holy Cross.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

We expected Jim Lawler to blow his top Monday after Harding's basketball practice had been finished. He had been forced to cut his team's drills short to allow for the placing of seats in the gymnasium for piano recital there Monday night.

SHORT

After a brief scrimmage session, Jim took his charges from the floor and preparations were made for the music lovers and a concert by the piano duo team, Virginia Morley and Livingston Gearhart.

Only comment from Lawler was the information that two concert pianos on the stage at the east end of the gym were valued at $12,000. "Why my automobile is worth less than one-sixth that," he added as he left the gym floor.

At the time, Lawler and his charges were working to snap a slump during which they had dropped five straight games. They followed the next night with a 67-59 win over Shelby.

The Presidents will encounter the same trouble at least once more and probably twice this season. On Feb. 16 the second concert is scheduled with Harding warming up for rugged Fremont on Feb. 19. Again on March 4, a violin recital will be presented. The cagers should be prepping for tournament action about that time.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK. Vern Hensel, who is making arrangements for the appearance next week of the Cleveland Browns at Green Camp High School, apparently isn't worried too much about a weight disadvantage for his Green Camp Elevator mates.

"They won't push us around too much," he says and goes on to point out his team will average around 190 pounds. The game is being sponsored by the Green Camp Lions Club and the program will include a game between the Green Camp K of P team and an opponent yet to be named.

The Browns will probably go with Dante Lavelli, Bill Willis, Marion Motley, Darrell Brewster and Doug Atkins.

Hensel finishes his pre-game analysis with the statement "But if any of those guys shift into a crouched position, I'm leaving the floor."

HUNTER'S HELPER

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Native gunbearers aren't confined to the African veldt says Pennsylvania Game protector Dan McPeek. McPeek stopped four young hunters during the state's game season for a routine inspection. One of them did not possess a hunting license, though he carried a shotgun. When asked where his hunting license was, the nimrod said "Oh, I'm not hunting. I'm just carrying a spare gun for my buddy."

Cincinnati Redleg third baseman Bobby Adams led the National League at that position in assists (324), total chances (508) and double plays (39) during 1953.

Charles Belts Satterfield, Earns June Crack at Title

CHICAGO (AP) — A revitalized Ezzard Charles dropped a bomb on Bob Satterfield in Chicago Stadium last night to touch off a gigantic buildup for a heavyweight title bout with champion Rocky Marciano.

Charles, who gets a chance to become the first fighter in history to regain the heavyweight crown, pole-axed Satterfield in the first minute of the second round with one of the hardest left hooks he ever has thrown.

Satterfield, outweighed 180 to 189 and a 7-2 underdog, was set up for the mighty finishing blow by absorbing a right to the midsection. As he started to bend forward, Charles' pistonlike left caught him flush on the chin.

He went over backwards and hit the canvas so hard resin dust flew. He lay lifelessly until Referee Frank Gilmer tolled out seven. Then he raised his head feebly, but he couldn't get up, and he took the full count flat on his back.

Thirty minutes later, he was still dazed and unable to remember clearly what happened. The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds. A national television audience, and 4,921 ringside customers who contributed to a net gate of $13,949.24, saw one of the cleanest, and most brutal, knockouts in years.

The International Boxing Club wasted no time in clearing the way for the 32-year-old Charles, who lost the title to Jersey Joe Walcott July 18, 1951, to try to recapture it from Marciano. The bout is being planned for June in a New York ball park.

"Charles has earned the

chance," said Truman Gibson, IBC secretary. 'It will not be necessary for him further to prove his right as the No. 1 contender."

"All I want is a title shot," said Charles. 'I'll fight anybody to get it — (Nino) Valdes, (Dan) Bucceroni, (Roland) Lastarza. You name him, I'll fight him."

Baltimore Colts Expect To Select 1954 Mentor

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts' coaching situation is expected to be cleared up at a news conference this afternoon.

Owner Carroll Rosenbloom said yesterday he'll name the mentor for 1954 at that time. Meanwhile, speculation continued to mount over who'll get the job.

Rosenbloom says he's going to pick the coach from a list of nine. The list includes Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and Art Lewis of West Virginia, rival coaches in this year's Sugar Bowl tilt.

Boxing Official Would Ignore Crowd Appeal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Andrew J. Putka, president of the National Boxing Assn., says he hopes championship matches soon will be made on the basis on NBA ratings rather than a fighter's crowd appeal.

Putka made his comment last night at a dinner held in his honor. He recently resigned as chairman of the Cleveland Boxing and Wrestling Commission to become deputy commissioner of Cleveland Stadium and Public Auditorium.

The association president said he believed it was unfair for Rocky Castellani of Cleveland to have been passed over for a title shot at middleweight champion Bobo Olson.

Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan recently was signed for a title bout with Olson at Chicago in April. Castellani was rated the No. 1 middleweight contender in the NBA's latest ratings.

Philadelphia Lands Dickson In Trade With Pittsburgh

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Owner Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies and General Manager Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates both had that "cat-that-ate-the-canary" look today: Carpenter because he separated Rickey from his prize pitcher; Rickey because he separated Carpenter from $80,000 in much-needed cash plus two utility players.

The deal, completed yesterday, sent Pirates' righthander Murry Dickson to the Phillies for infielder Jack Lohrke, pitcher Andy Hansen and the $80,000.

Carpenter promptly declared that the addition of the 37-year-old Dickson gave the Phillies the top pitching staff in the National League. Rickey, whose recent request for more working capital was turned down by club executives, reported that he was pleased with the deal.

The Phillies have been after Dickson ever since the 1951 season when he won 20 games for the Pirates, who also finished eighth that year.

Carpenter envisioned his 1954 pitching squad consisting of 10 players: Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Dickson, Bob Miller, Thornton Kipper, Jim Konstanty, Steve Ridzik, Johnny Lindell, Karl Drews, and bonus rookie Tommy Qualters.

The Phillies' president said that Dickson, despite his relatively advanced years, should have at least two good years.

"Dickson pitches with an easy motion that doesn't take much out of his arm," a club spokesman said. "If he can win 10 games for the Pirates (his 1953 record) he certainly should do as well or much better with our defense behind him."

Dickson, commenting on the trade at his Leavenworth, Kan., home, agreed.

"It's easier to pitch when you have a better infield behind you." Dickson said. "The fellows we had (in Pittsburgh) needed more experience and hits went through them that older and more experienced players probably would have stopped."

Asked about his reputation for giving up home run balls — he set a record of 39 in 1948, with the St. Louis Cardinals — Dickson declared:

"With the Phils' infield, I'll be able to throw that low, inside pitch more often for the double play, instead of trying to throw a fast one past the batter for the third strike."

Barons Seeking Fifth Straight Win in Game at Troy Tonight

Marion's Barons resume their fight for second spot in the International Hockey League tonight when they battle Troy's fourth-place Bruins on enemy ice.

In third spot in the IHL with 42 points, Marion will be out to protect that spot against Troy, and continue moving toward the top of the IHL.

Troy, only one point away from the Barons and but one point in front of Johnstown and Grand Rapids who are tied for fifth spot in the IHL, will be out to crack the jinx weaved around the team by the locals.

In four previous meetings, Marion has skated off with 8-3, 3-1, 6-3 and 3-2 decisions. The Barons' Gordon Vejprava, who is among the IHL's top ten scorers with 46 points and leads the league in hat tricks with three, got two of them in games with Troy.

While the Barons and Troy battle tonight, six other IHL clubs will be in action also. Other IHL contests send Toledo to Louisville, Ft. Wayne to Cincinnati and Johnstown to Grand Rapids. Cincinnati's Mohawks are current leaders of the IHL with 53 points while Toledo ranks second with 44 points, only two in front of Marion.

The Barons will appear in one more road game during the week before coming back to home ice. At Ft. Wayne Saturday night, Marion will return here for a Sunday encounter with the last-place Milwaukee Chiefs.

County League Session Slated

Marion County cage quintets renew their cage rivalry Friday with both front-running Prospect and Morral bidding to remain atop the County League standings with seven straight victories.

Both squads are expected to come through with victories. Morral entertains last-place Martel, winless in six county league outings, while Prospect travels to LaRue. Edison clinched the victory with 14 points in the final period.

New Broom, a highly rated horse that cost his owners $75,000 at a yearling auction, won only one race in his career.

Cars From Last Year's Event Ineligible for Soap Box Derby

Marion youngsters who raced in the Marion Lions Club Soap Box Derby in previous years will not be permitted to use the same racer in this year's local derby.

This was learned Tuesday when Dr. W. A. Ranck of Marion, who along with Col. John Phelan of the Marion Engineer Depot is a director of the derby, announced that the 1954 official Derby rule books would be available soon, signaling the start of construction of racers by Marion youths.

Dr. Ranck called attention to other rule changes for this year's derby. All cars racing in the derby must be built by the boy who races the car and during this year. Built-in weight must be of wood only, Dr. Ranck said. Wheels, tires or axles on the racers cannot be altered, he added.

A few rule books have already been recived and are available in libraries and from manual training instructors in the Marion junior high schools. More rule books containing requirements in building racers will arrive later and be available to all the 11 to 15 year olds here.

It was pointed out the rule making a racer used in last year's derby ineligible for this year's derby was a local one set up by the Marion Soap Box Derby committee. Cars in this year's derby will be closely examined by the inspection committee and every boy must be able to prove that he built the car himself.

The derby will be held in July.

Horse Owners Name England

C. D. England of Marion was one of three men named to represent owners at an organization meeting of the newly formed Ohio Harness Horseman's Association at Columbus.

England was one of six additional directors, three representing the drivers-trainers and three for the owners, named. Hugh Beatty of Hilliards, Bob Seabrook of Urbana and Bob Valery of Waverly were the drivers named while Jim Moody of Mechanicsburg, Ben Demsey of Columbus; and England were elected to represent the owners.

Bill Hecht of Celina was elected president of the new group. Other officers are Chester Falter, vice president; Demsey, Columbus, secretary; and Martha Babington, Delaware, treasurer.

Directors for the nine districts are Herb Biggard, Newton Falls; F. S. Grant, Dud Mone, New Holland; Frank Janssen, Berea; "Slim" Shilling, Columbus; C. I. Powell, Springfield; Dorsey Green, Ralph Grabbry, Piqua, and Harry Miller, West Alexandria.

The group asked the Ohio Racing Commission to make urine tests at all harness race meetings in Ohio; formulate a rule of regulation for a fair draw and unified preference system at all race meetings in the state; and appoint state stewards with full authority to supervise pari-mutuel meetings.

Only 10 players in the history of the National League have hit more than 40 home runs in one season.

Elevator Grabs First Place in Y Cage League

Green Camp Elevator moved into sole possession of first place in the YMCA Industrial-Independent League Wednesday at the Y with a 51-44 verdict over Bird-McGinnis. Last night's win was the Elevator's fifth straight without a loss and broke a first place tie with the Marion AC which now has a record of four wins and no losses.

The Green Camp - Bird-McGinnis game was well played by both teams with the edge being provided by the winners' accuracy from the foul line. After holding a 14-13 lead at the first quarter mark, the Legion five dropped behind at half time by a 31-24 count on the superior rebound work of the Green Camp squad. Bird-McGinnis came back strong in the third period and narrowed the deficit to six points in the final four minutes of play. Failure to hit on eight free tosses from the foul line spelled the difference in the final minutes of the game. Ron Craycraft led the Elevator with 18 points while Jim Lawler, Harding Basketball coach, pitched in 16 for Bird-McGinnis.

In other games, the UAW-CIO edged Marion Power Shovel 52-51 in a game which saw the lead change hands a half dozen times during the 32 minutes of play. The Shovel led by a 15-12 count after eight minutes but dropped behind 32-27 at half time. The winners held a one-point lead going into the final quarter and after the lead had changed several times in the final minutes, the UAW team protected a three-point lead to the end with the exception of a late Shovel bucket with 10 seconds remaining. Richie had 23 points for the winners while Lowell Hensel pitched in 16 to lead the Shovel.

Marion Industries made it two straight with a 75-42 win over the Waldo Merchants. Robbie Miller and Dick Griffith with 21 and 18 points respectively led the Industries to the win. Don McKenzie had 14 to lead the Waldo crew.

Crosby's Golf Tourney Opens Three-Day Run

PREBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's personal contribution to golf, the $10,000 Pro-Amateur Championship Tournament he sponsors each year for charity, gets under way tomorrow for a three-day whirl.

The 54-hole par chasing derby is a show with a nationwide appeal. Big names are a dime a dozen, most everybody wants to get in . . . except Bing. Der Bingle exchanges repartee and has fun in general.

Crooner Crosby foots all the bills. He turns the profits over to charities in this area. More than $170,000 has been realized in the seven years the tournament has been held on the Monterey Peninsula.

The field of 120 teams will be split tomorrow and Saturday between the Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula course. Sunday's final round will be reduced to the low 45 teams.

Dayton Misses Cage Upset in Overtime Play

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Dayton basketball team probably will have to give up its lease on the title of "giant killers" after what happened last night.

The Ohio Flyers blew a six-point lead in 80 seconds and bowed to Western Kentucky 79-75 in a triple overtime battle. The victory was No. 15 for Western, longest unbeaten streak in the nation.

Just a year ago Dayton wrecked Seton Hall's string of 27 triumphs, longest ever compiled by a major college in a single season.

The Flyers led the fifth-ranking Hilltoppers until the final three minutes of regulation time. In the first overtime they built a 64-58 advantage with 80 seconds to play. But Western fought back and tied the score on Jack Sallee's driving jump shot with two seconds left.

Tom Marshall collected a field goal and two foul shots early in the third overtime and the Flyers never again caught up.

Oklahoma City University, No. 8, whipped Houston 70-62 in the only other action involving ranking teams. Arnold Short scored 18 points in the first quarter and ended the night with 41 for the Oklahomans.

Bradley, coming fast after three early season setbacks, scored a surprisingly easy 76-59 decision over St. Louis for its eighth straight triumph.

Both the Navy and the Army won. The Middies beat Rutgers 75-61 after trailing at halftime, and the Cadets outclassed Swarthmore 74-41 with Bill Hannon scoring 31 points.

Syracuse, the only team to beat Cornell this season, did it for the second time, 71-69, on a 20-foot set shot by Mel Besdin with six seconds to play.

Penn State defeated West Virginia 74-66 with a rally in the last five minutes after the lead had changed hands 10 times.

In his first year as professional boxer, Joe Louis scored 10 knockouts in 12 fights.

Wesley Church Nipped By Green Camp K of P

Green Camp K of P Lodge edged Wesley Church 64-63 in a game played last night at Green Camp.

The winners dropped behind 18-12 in the opening quarter but came back to win the contest. Green Camp stepped out front 27-25 at halftime but the losers tied the score at the three - quarter mark, 46-46. Paul Sheppard paced the Green Camp attack with 27 points. L. Earl and Ken Comstock each had 17 for the losers. The Green Camp squad is host to Mt. Zion Monday night.

Focus of Our Age By George Sokolsky

Most countries used to mind their own business, the people earning their livelihoods according to their economic habits and traditions, their governments concerning themselves principally with domestic affairs. The 1917 Revolution in Russia altered the way of life in every country upon this earth because it injected into the affairs of every country the challenge of accepting or rejecting the projection of this revolution and the consequences of the rise of a new universal state.

SOKOLSKY

Stepan Y. Titorenko, in a brilliant address on "The Strategy and Tactics of the Communist Party in the Main Stages of Its Development," delivered in Moscow last December, said of this:

"After the October Revolution our party grew from a national force into an international force, the shock-brigade of the world revolutionary workers movement; and the Soviet Republic grew into a lighthouse throwing light upon the way of the working people of the whole world, opening prospects for them in their struggle for freedom and a bright future.

"The Soviet Republic began to exercise great influence upon the development of the liberation struggle among the working people of all countries by means of her successes in the task of building Socialism."

FURTHER, he said: "After the Second World War a whole number of countries in the Central and South Eastern Europe dissociated themselves from the system of imperialism, and the system of People's Democracy was established in them. In the colonial and dependent countries a new powerful upsurge of national liberation movement took place.

"The most crushing blow against the whole imperialist system after the October Revolution and the victory of the Soviet Union in the Fatherland War, was dealt by the victory of the great Chinese people over the reaction of Kuomintang and the foreign imperialists.

"The united and mighty camp of socialism and democracy was formed and grew strong. It counts 800 million people — about one third of the world population..."

THIS IS a realistic statement of fact which may never be disregarded in any appraisal of such events as the Korean war, the Indochina war or the jittery politics of Nehru of India.

The next theaters of overt activity of the Soviet Universal State, the ground fully prepared by the propaganda and infiltration by the Marxist church, must be in the Sinic-Hindu areas of Asia.

Stalin, as far back as August 1, 1927, in a classic attack on Leon Trotzky and Karl Radek over the loss of China which the Soviet Universal State had nearly conquered in 1925-26, only to lose it by the defection of Chiang Kai-shek, laid down this law of revolution:

"Revolution in imperialist countries is one thing: in those countries the bourgeoisie is the oppressor of other peoples; it is counter-revolutionary in all stages of the revolution; the national element, as an element in the struggle for emancipation, is absent in these countries.

"Revolution in colonial and dependent countries is another thing. In these countries the oppression exercised by the imperialism of other states is one of the factors of revolution; this oppression cannot but affect the national bourgeoisie also; the national bourgeoisie, at a certain stage and for a certain period, may support the revolutionary movement of its country against imperialism, and the national element, as an element in the struggle for emancipation, is a revolutionary factor.

"Not to make this differentiation, not to understand this difference and to identify revolution in imperialist countries with revolution in colonial countries, is to depart from the road of Marxism, from the road of Leninism..."

MANY AMERICAN assumptions, particularly those of General George Marshall, were based upon their surprise that so many intellectuals and businessmen in China supported the Communists rather than the Nationalists at a certain phase of the Chinese Revolution.

They attributed this attitude to corruption within the Kuomintang and among Chinag Kai-shek's entourage.

Having no political perception, these Americans assumed that because moral forces in a country favored the Communists at a particular moment, the Communists were to be accepted.

They did not recognize that in the preliminary stage of any revolution, when the Communists form united fronts with intellectual and bourgeois elements, they are most dangerous, for at that moment, they are destroying a people's will to resist them.

Many Americans, particularly doctrinaire liberals and pacifistic clergymen, have made and are making the same error. Winston Churchill has made that error from Teheran to Bermuda.

Secret Out By Victor Riesel

A mystery man died last Sunday night in a New York Hospital. Almost at the very hour that his friends planned to bury him, swiftly, without calling in any relatives, the President of the United States dramatically demanded that Congress make all subversives men without a country.

RIESEL

Strange as it may seem, these events are linked.

For the man who died was one of those whose underground activities provoked Dwight D. Eisenhower into demanding the most drastic punishment yet devised for those whose allegiance is not to the U.S. but to the U.S.S.R.

The man who died in Montefiore Hospital last Sunday as "William Brown" was none other than "Mysterious Mike," a name which only a handful of Soviet underground agents will recognize as code for Sam Hall, director of the Communist party's southern underground machine. Director, too, of special undercover activities in Texas, now the objective of intensive Communist concentration for reasons not to be discussed here.

IDENTIFICATION here of Sam Hall will, for the first time, reveal to many an American agent of the Russians how operating in Texas the real name and background of the "Mysterious Mike" who would phone and mail cryptic directives to them.

So, too, will the party's secret southern workers be surprised on the New Orleans docks; in Birmingham, Alabama, and in North Carolina, too.

Some knew of Sam Hall, as a public party leader. Some knew merely the voice of Mysterious Mike.

Only the Soviet's secret police—and, of course, our own authorities, who were not talking, and a labor source or two of mine, who were talking—knew that Hall and "Mysterious Mike," the Soviet's underground boss of all southern activities, were one and the same.

Here then is the genesis of subversion. The record shows that Hall's mother was descended from Ethan Allen, great Vermont hero of our own history.

He came from a fine southern family. He camouflaged his activities by posing as a Sunday School teacher. Yet he was a Soviet agent.

SO IMPORTANT was he, that in July 1950, when the Smith Act prosecutions were slashing off the topside of the Communist party, and the Korean war turned the nation bitter against Communists, the Soviet apparatus ordered him to "play safe" and go underground.

The apparatus wanted to save him from trial and imprisonment—so important was he. So he went underground in Birmingham, Alabama. For almost three and a half years, he lived a furtive, hidden existence.

He organized activity inside some unions. He went into New Orleans and reviewed and revised the Communists' infiltration tactics on the waterfront there.

He was then ordered into Texas. All through 1952 and parts of 1953, he built the Communists' apparatus in the Lone Star State.

He provided places for other operatives to hide. He directed the distribution of propaganda and directives.

He gathered detailed information on the oil and chemical industries there.

He traced the state's industrial expansion and advised the party and the apparatus on infiltration techniques and openings.

HE CONSTANTLY swung around Texas, concentrating on Houston, Dallas, Austin, Fort Worth, El Paso and Galveston in about that order. He would stay in a city two or three days and then move so his security and cover would always be certain.

At one time in 1952 he promoted a series of behind-the-scenes briefing sessions for those comrades assigned to infiltrate Texas ports, oil and chemical centers and key unions wherever possible. These sessions were strictly segragated, with Negro and white cells meeting in different parts of town.

His wife, an electrical worker from Texas, was active in the party - lining United Electrical Workers Union. They made a compatible pair.

Finally Hall became ill. Last Jan 1st, the party rushed him to the Montefiore Hospital, a cancer research center. There they registered him as William Brown. His wife stood by as Jan Brown.

Even in his dying moments he had to serve the apparatus. It could not be known that Mysterious Mike was dying. It might have disturbed the southern undercover apparatus.

Well, he died in the service of the international revolution, a leading citizen of the Communist world, not ours.

U.S. Heritage By Laura Hobson

Getting on to a wrong TV channel Sunday afternoon, I stumbled into one of the most fascinating shows I've ever dug out of my 17-inch screen.

HOBSON

It wasn't a comedy program or panel show or juicy heart - tugger — instead it was a great rolling countrywide look at America's forests and mines and oilwells, with Edward R. Murrow talking about the growing demands we've been making on all of them.

The show didn't start with Mr. Murrow nor with a commercial, nor even a title. There was only a rugged, craggy landscape and an instant later a fierce white explosion.

Then come the name. "Resources for Freedom," with Mr Murrow saying, "Yes, we are turning mountains upside down for you. . . men are following along dry creeks with gelger counters. . . we're travelling 5,000 miles to find a special kind of mud for you."

THAT "YOU" meant every living American, for on the average each one of us digs into our nation's natural resources each year for a staggering 36,000 pounds of fuel and metal and stone and lumber and chemicals and food.

The first five seconds of the show put the one I'd meant to see clean out of my mind, and the first five minutes made me wish my schoolage boys were watching this exciting and educational decumentary too.

For "Resources for Freedom" is what the networks are always talking about and all too rarely getting past the desk of the fifth vice-president: it's public service of top importance.

That's because it springs originally not from the hot brain of a high-salaried "idea man" but from the actual work of over 100 trained and gifted men who, for 18 months, did a true public service for our country.

THEIR NICKNAME was "The PM-PC," which translates into "The President's Materials Policy Commission." I'd read occasional bits and pieces about it—and paid no more attention then to other dry reports of other Washington commissions.

But the TV show woke me up with a bang as big as that first explosion. One after another the stunning pictures rolled by—as we heard from business executives and engineers and chemists, from drillers and miners and muckers and woodsmen, and at appropriate moments, from Mr. Murow, the four commissioners, and their chairman, William S. Paley.

Between them all, I realized for the first time what our growing population, our rising American standard of living, our giant appetite for more cars and more telephones, more railroads and planes and houses and electric lights—what al lthis hungry gobbling takes out of that part of mother earth we call the U.S.A.

I UNDERSTAND why, after half a century of those soaring demands, we simply must find new ways to satisfy the even larger appetites there'll be in the larger U.S.A. of 1975.

When the show ended, I was wishing not only that my sons could see a re-run some time, but also that it could be sent around to high schools and colleges all over the nation, so that every youngster old enough to take "current events" or "social studies" could get to see it too.

That's a large project and it would take a little doing. But since the William S. Paley who headed the PMPC is the same William S. Paley who heads the Columbia Broadcasting System, it just could be that some hot "idea man" on his staff will persuade him to give this notion the old college try.

This has been reduced from $39.50 to $29.50 and we'll bet in a few hours "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore"! The $10 you save will pay for a little extra heating fuel or the next power bill or two!

SET 2 DAYSTROM CHROME CHAIRS. Lovely yellow seats and backs (if you adore yellow)! Save $5.35 by buying this $27.30 value for only $21.95 now! If you're not walkin' over chairs in your kitchen or recreation room now, you may be just the person we're lookin' for! These eggs should hatch nicely now that they're marked down!

GLASS DOOR CHINA. The yellow interior trim is guaranteed to match any first class egg yolk! Your "Rhode Island Red" rooster will ecstatically crow "I Got Spurs That Jingle, Jangle, Jingle," when he lays eyes on this! We laid the egg, you get the chick! This china was $44.50 but it's only $33 now! Got any ideas what you're going to do with the $10.50!

METAL IRONING BOARD AND COVER. Call these "bad eggs" if you wish but we are mystified at the slow turnover! The manufacturer said mark 'em $12.95 and we did! There's still a few around and we'll move 'em or bust! Now they're $9.75! You just never had it so good!

G. E ELECTRIC MIXER. List price $46.50! Reduced to $33! Just one! You can afford to turn it on now just to listen to the motor hum! Course, your TV might get the jitters but who cares about TV these days, th' hum's th' thing! Guaranteed to mix anything it can get ahold of, including thumbs and fingers! Just bring in the roof to your house, and, we'll consider the down-payment . . .well, about $3.30!

BIG NAME BRAND JUICE BLENDOR. We know! We know! $37.95 was just a wee bit more than you wanted to pay! So you do without all your vitamin drinks all this time! Shame! Shame! Come in tomorrow and get 'em for $27.50! And remember! Just bring along 1,000 shares of AT&T and we'll OK your credit!

5-PC OAK BREAKFAST SET. Regularly $49.95 but now only $39.87! It's not a perfect set 'cause the top is checked! But let's see the scramble for this "bad egg" tomorrow! Only one, of course, but the lucky buyer will save $10.08 Worth a little pushin' and shovin' don't you think! Let's see what $10.08 will buy! Why the very first thing we can think of is somethin' to eat, like a big pre-cooked ham! Yum! Yum!

SET 4 DAYSTROM CHROME CHAIRS. Well doggone it! Mother Nature sure overdone it when she blessed us with this buyer! His idea of decor for the kitchen he says! Take a look at this $74 set of chairs and see if you think they're worth our new price of $59.50! Really, his epxression is remarkable for the similarity (we allude of course to Mother Hen)! Sure, it's a darned good value at $59.50—but not a penny more! And, furthermore, if you bring us a hen's egg in this same chartreuse shade (the seats are upholstered in this color), you can have the set for nothin'! But no smart tricks like a little coloring matter—must be natural shade!

PORCELAIN TOP KITCHEN TABLES. A give-a-way for only $9.99! Could of made it $10 even but thought we'd give you a break! It was $13.95 so your total savings amount to not $3.94, not $3.95 but, think of it, $3.96! Use it for most any kitchen chore, and when you're done with it, have hubby box it in with old crating or somethin' and it'll make a neat new hen-house for your "buff orpingtons"!

DEHAVILAND DINNERWARE. Don't let the name fool you! It's good but not that good! Complete service for 8 persons or 53 pieces in all! When is a "bad egg" not so bad! Well, this could well be it! If you need everyday dinnerware, you'll hardly every pay less than $22.75 for a $29.95 set!

OVERSTUFFED STUFF!

ANOTHER KROEHLER SOFA AND CHAIR. One like you never saw before! Horrible, colorless grey frieze! You could pass right through the room and never even see it 'cause it's so lifeless! Talk about real gone "dead eggs"! $288.75 caused a lot of phooeys! The price of $199 on it now ought to sell it or be proof of a doubtful paternity! If you smoke Tuxedo tobacco, the Tuxedo arms on this suite will make you feel right at home! We "goofed" on this one.

PLASTIC PLATFORM ROCKERS. Get seasick at home and save ocean liner fare! Plastic, phooey! Colors, phooey! Covered in gold leaf, they wouldn't bring $49.50 . . .but at $37 and $3.70 down, they oughta rock away fast! Buy two and be twice as seasick!

USED KROEHLER SOFA AND CHAIR. Not very often you get this chance! A real Kroehler $245.50 value for $125! Very good condition, too! The green hardly can be called a true green, anymore, but unless you're color blind, you can easily tell it was green at some earlier time in its life! And, again, if you should happen to be color blind, the present shade is immaterial nohow! There's a lot of life in this "egg" yet!

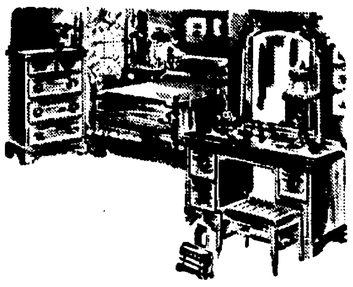
MASSIVE KROEHLER SOFA. A $300 price tag has haunted this egg for months! Monstrous green jacquard upholstery! As ugly as sin and about as agreeable to a delicate sense of harmony! If you will remove all present furnishings from one wall of your parlor, there'll be plenty of space for this! So what if we're wrong! A hammer, a saw, a chisel, nails, plaster and paint or wall paper to spare, and you're ready to make the space larger for it! No trouble at all! Just tell us to charge it . . .for only $199!

KROEHLER SOFA AND CHAIR. Green frieze and we mean "Green"! Guess the moths even turned up their whiskers at having to stomach this! Been here too long! Save $29 now 'cause the reduced price is only $197.50! Make some mother hen happy by hatching this egg for her! She couldn't!

KROEHLER SECTIONAL SOFA. Strictly sumpin' to sit on! Just don't gawk at the cover! Anyway, with the TV on, who looks at the furniture! We looked folks right in the eye not so long ago and asked $214.50 . . .now we're beggin' for $175! Hope your friend Joe beats you to it!

MAPLE LADDER BACK CHAIR. Supposed to bring $21.50! Now we will take $10.75! Why, the cane seat alone is worth this much! You can use the 3-slat back for a short ladder in an emergency!

BOUDOIR CAPRICES!



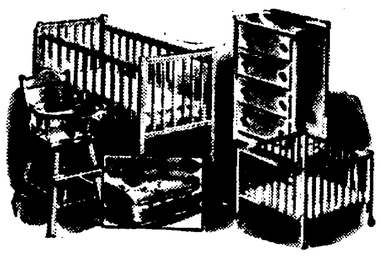
MAHOGANY BEDROOM SUITE. Think this came from Dixie! They should send it back to Dixie! Lots of things Dixie's got, we want, but this isn't one of 'em! We're kickin' 90 bucks off the regular price of $279.50! So tomorrow you buy it for $189.50! Includes vanity and chair, chest-on-chest and full size bed! And, you know, the 90 bucks you save will buy a lot of bedding, too!

DOUBLE DRESSER MAPLE BEDROOM. The designer isn't to blame! But we know who is . . . and if this doesn't go out soon, we know of a buyer who will! You should see the frills on the different pieces . . .the lace on mother's Sunday petticoat becomes rather insignificant by comparison! It hasn't been sensational at $209.50! But when you see the unusual bookcase-headboard bed and the massive pieces, maybe you'll overlook the "gingerbread" . . . especially when you save $50 . . .'Cause it's only $159.50 now!

WALNUT BEDROOM SUITE. Was $164.50, now $139.50! Save a cool $25! What an easy way to make a living (you, we mean)! This suite includes a roomy double dresser with mirror, chest of drawers and full size panel bed! Sure and it's a real buy! Good enough for your own bedroom, the children's room or the spare room! Well! What are you waitin' for! It's a "bad egg" for us, a $25 nugget for you!

UNCLASSIFIED BARGAIN PAGE!!!

KIDDIE CAPERS!



BATCH MAPLE AND BIRCH JUVENILE COSTUMERS. At $7.50 they don't hatch so well, but at $3.95, well, they ought to get going! Add one in the hall for tiny tot visitors! Add another one in the children's room! And in no time at all, you'll have more "chicks" about the house than you may realize.'

THAYER DOUBLE DROP SIDE BIRCH CRIB. Supposed to be deluxe style and practically irresistible! Another one of our "deluxe" eggs! You may be able to use it, though! Especially if you want to disregard the stylish appointments with which it is generously endowed! It has been priced at $48.50, but we're determined to sacrifice it for $36.75, so better hurry! The $11.75 you save will buy a lot of beans for the eaters in your family!

MAPLE YOUTH BED COMPLETE WITH SEALY INNERSPRING MATTRESS. Better hurry if you expect to get one of these! When the boss sees this ad, yours truly might as well make application for a somewhat inferior position elsewhere 'cause he sure 'nough is a goin' to lower the boom! Now where in the world are you goin' to beat this $49.50 combination at our REGULAR price, leave alone the reduced price of $39.95! Why the $9.55 you save will buy a year's supply of the Saturday Evening Post! Your readin' for a year for the savings you effect!

HEYWOOD CONVERTIBLE HIGH CHAIR. This looked like a sure bet for a "White Leghorn" chick! But what do you know! It's nothin' but a "bad egg" again! Can't be lucky all the time! We need these like we need more left arms! They were factory priced at $27.50! Too high! Now we'll take $19.95! Better see it before you say no! You'd look pretty silly a walkin' into your neighbor's kitchen to "chew the fat" and mention how sorry you were that you didn't buy one, when, wham! and lo and behold! this very same high chair was a sittin' "nice and pretty by the fireplace"! Oh! That's when mortification really sets in!

JUVENILE TV CHAIR IN RED PLASTIC. Sure we're mortified, vexed, humiliated and confused! Take a look at mother hen in the upper right hand corner and you'll see a reasonable facsimile of our expression at the moment! These "eggs" were $7.85 and a lot of 'em are in use! But too many youngsters apparently did not get 'em for Christmas, so we are a sittin' on a nest of duds! If $5 sounds like a "steal", better hurry along and get yours! Otherwise wait 'til later and pay $7.85! Bet we won't have these very much longer!

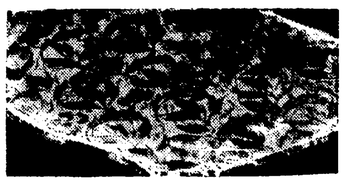
THAYER GREY ENAMEL BABY CRIB. We really didn't think this would turn out to be the "bad egg" it has proven to be! My gosh, $54.50 is about what you would expect to pay for this quality! So what! You still don't want it! All right! That did it! The first $39.95 takes it away! Get us mad will you!

JUVENILE LOUNGE CHAIRS. They're priced to sell at one-half price now! Were $8.95! Reduced to $4.48! Children can carry about effortlessly, bang around and bounce in and out without harm to the chair or baby! They'll stand the gaff! AS durable as "foam rubber" eggs! Arthur Godfrey liked these so well he gave 'em to the kids of his staff on his Christmas program.

MAPLE JUVENILE CHEST. Makes an old hen plenty mad to come up with a lot of "duds" . . ."bad eggs" that is! Us too! We're perplexed, non-plussed and bejabbered when such a nice chest won't sell for $44.50! Some one's going to be plenty pleased to ge this for only $24.75! It's been shoved around many, many times and we're tired a shovin'!

THAYER CHARCOAL GREY BABY CARRIAGE. Bet you never saw an egg in charcoal grey! We're not so sure this isn't the only one in captivitiy! Since it has been $46.50, and now is only $36.75, you never saved $9.75 any easier!

UNDERFOOT LUXURIES!



FLOOR COVERINGS! Hold on and away we go! You need most anything at all, either room size or yard goods, and you'll find plenty usable stuff among these eggs! Let's get together tomorrow and save you a little money, or a lot of money depending on your purchase. We won't hassle over terms either 'cause you can charge anything you wish! Boy, you never had it so good as this!

DELIVERY MOST ANYWHERE, ANYTIME!

THAYER HUNDER GREEN STROLLER. Whoops, should be "Hunter Green"! It was a real value at $37.50! At only $26.75 it's tremendous! Don't let the color fool you! There's no association with any "safari" trek intended! It's simply a good camouflage shade for baby's safety! This "egg" will hatch a bargain for some lucky owner!

THE JUNIOR MISS WANTS A DOLL CARRIAGE! We bought too many too late! Take advantage of us (what a shame!) and take these now for $3.99 (they were $5.95)! Maybe someday we will learn not to add new "eggs" after the old brood has hatched!

HEYWOOD JUNIOR BUFFET. No, it's not for junior, either! That's just a way of saying it's built on a smaller scale than usual. The wheat finish is so suggestive! Just look at it once a day to remind you to look at the bread-box! This was priced plenty right at $144.50! Or, at least, we thought so! But, as a little rain must fall on everyone occasionally, we'll take our bumps on this one! $99.95 will set it up in your dining room tomorrow. Deliver the key to Fort Knox to our credit manager and we'll dispense with the usual credit investigation (page Senator McCarthy)!

DUAL PURPOSE GIMMICKS!

CHOICE STUDIO DIVANS. Citron or tan figured fabrics! Were to $70! Marked down to $49.50! Save a $20 bill, plus a 50 cent piece! Put the $20 bill in your savings account and the 50 cents in the piggy bank! Sure took an unusual hen to lay such unusual "eggs"! These are just ducky for "pop" to "flop" when he comes in all dusty (or just plain dirty) and tired! Not too large, not too small (Page Miss Goldi Locks)! Lots of places you can hide these (and "pop" too, incidentally)!

INNERSPRING STUDIO COUCH. This is a couch! That's just what the man said! So we priced it at $97.50! Nice red or green shades with Duran plastic arms to match! These just couldn't miss hatching! But they did! If your idea of furnishings decor is in the Grand Rapids manner, don't aggravate yourself by even bothering to see these! But if you can use dual-purpose furniture to any advantage, and the style is unimportant, then your "Plymouth Rock" dream has come true! We will welcome you to the "nest" if you hurry down!

KROEHLER DESK-VANITY AND BENCH. At $121, no one wanted to give it house room! But at $79 it'll have a home in a hurry! Lovely cherry, if you like cherry! Slightly shopworn, but you wouldn't know it, and, if we kept our big mouth shut, you'd never have even guessed it!

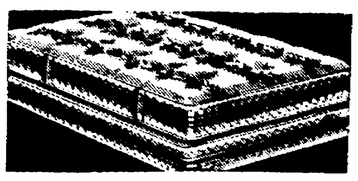
2ND FLOOR GUILD GALLERIES. Sure! They've laid 'em, too! And, my friend, these are super-deluxe eggs! Mark-downs are practically one-half on a lot of these! Believe you us, our heart isn't in this at all! We could gnash a lot of uppers and lowers just contemplating the sacrifices made here! Style conscious buyers will discover their "bonanza" here! If you're one who has never been "lucky" ere this, here's your chance to hit the jackpot like never before! It may be your "Chance of a lifetime"!

ILLUMINATED PICTURES. They are Lightolier made! Guaranteed not to furnish reading illumination! But there'll be enough light to throw in bold relief any and all minor flaws as exist on your walls or ceilings (such as cracks, seams, soil, cobwebs, et cetera)! At $42.50 they smell . . .at $21.25 they're attractive! See 'em before you decide to question their value at $21.25.

PICTURE MIRRORS. They're not such good mirrors, but you should see the pictures! Birds, flowers, and what have you! Were $9.95! Now $5.99! Store 'em away with your other antiques until you redecorate!

EASY TERMS ANYONE CAN AFFORD!

SLEEP GOODIES!



STOWAWAY COT AND PAD. We are like the expectant hen mother in some respects (we reserve the right of rebuttal if you're gonna get nasty, too!)! We are indeed so happy when the nest completely hatches and there aren't any duds! A group of these cots (with rubber pads of course) found homes quickly when first offered! All except one! It got soiled and shopworn and just wouldn't move! So we marked it down! At last a buyer! Then back again! Now, slightly used, but usable! It was $37.50 but at $22.95 it should readily find another home! How about you!

SIMMONS METAL BED. Blended walnut head and foot panels on these regularly $17.95 beds! The buyer of these, we can assure you, has a head! but so does a pin! Really, it doesn't matter a whole lot whether we argue the point or not! The fact still remains that we got metal beds! We'll even deliver 'em for $13.95 now!

INNERSPRING MATTRESS AND BOX SPRING. A $99.50 value for sure! We've sold considerably worse than these for that much! In fact, the factory said they were bona fide $99.50 quality! So what! Competition made 'em look so bad they just rolled over and played dead! Now, there's a different story! $69.95 will buy both pieces . . .in either twin or full size! You sleep! We sleep! Everybody sleeps! Might as well be comfortable and refreshed as to wake up grouchy and tired.! Costs so little . . .about one penny a night, and brother, that's hay and no kiddin'!

CANNON FITTED SHEETS. Twin size only. We were told to mark these $2.79! We did! And we still got some! So tomorrow, buy one . . .and get one for nothin'! But, remember, when this stock is sold out, there ain't gonna be no more! So listen closely, Mabel! Be here early and get your share! Just remember this! These are twin size, 39 inches wide, three feet and three inches that is! So don't expect to use 'em on your full size beds! They just won't fit! But they'll fit like gloves on most any twin size mattress!

MERSMAN IVY STAND. Whasamalla you, Joe, you no buy at $22.50! Why, the owner of 2 of these should be as proud as a dog with two tails! Why, yours truly knows of a night club that has one of these in every corner of the "Octagonal Room"! Don't know just what you'd do with 'em, but think of the fun you'd have just a sittin' and glarin't at 'em! At only $9.95 you can buy a pair so easy !

KROEHLER DESK-VANITY AND BENCH. At $121, no one wanted to give it house room! But at $79 it'll have a home in a hurry! Lovely cherry, if you like cherry! Slightly shopworn, but you

Defense Takes Over in Trial Of Labor Chief

Dayton Leader May Take Stand in U.S. Action for Perjury

CINCINNATI (AP) — The defense was expected to start presenting its case today in the U.S. District Court trial of E. Melvin Hupman. Hupman, a Dayton labor leader, is charged with having committed perjury when he signed a Taft-Hartley law non-Communist affidavit.

Cross examination of Arthur Strunk of Dayton, an immigrant from Germany who became an undercover FBI agent, dragged through yesterday's sessions as Marshall Perlin of New York, a defense attorney; Asst. U.S. Dist. Atty. Joseph C. Bullock and Judge John H. Druffel continued to clash over Perlin's line of questioning and his objections to government questions.

At the conclusion of yesterday's session Perlin told Judge Druffel he expected to call five or six witnesses and that he doubted if defense testimony could be completed in time for the judge to give his instructions to the jury by tomorrow morning.

Twice yesterday Perlin made unsuccessful attempts to have Strunk "admonished" by the court.

One of the occasions came when Strunk said a discrepancy in his testimony here and at a previous trial in Dayton was because he didn't mean what he said at Dayton.

Perlin's question of "do you always say what you mean" drew a retort from the witness, "do you?"

"Well, I think you asked for it," was Judge Druffel's reply to Perlin's request that Strunk be "admonished."

Later Perlin asked that Strunk be "admonished" because he was smiling as the attorney questioned him.

"I don't think we have reached that stage yet," was the judge's answer.

Much of Perlin's cross examination was in an effort to learn whether Strunk ever had been a member of the Communist party prior to 1944. Strunk had testified he became a member of the party in 1944. Strunk had testified he became a member of the party in 1944 after agreeing to be an undercover agent for the FBI.

At one point he replied "that's a lie" to a question by Perlin as to whether he had been a member of the Communist party of Germany before he came to this country.

3 Alarms Answered By Firemen in Marion

Three alarms were answered by Marion city firemen yesterday and today.

At 2:54 a.m. this morning, Central and W. Center St. station firemen answered a call to the residence of P. J. Anderson at 667 W. Center St. when smoke from a heating stove filled the house. There was no fire and no damage, firemen said.

At 11 p.m. last night, Central station firemen answered a similar call to an apartment building at 203 S. State St. owned by Dr. Frank Murphy. One of the residents smelled fumes from an overheated furnace and called firemen who reported there was no fire and no loss.

Central station firemen also went to the residence of Louis Ruhlman at 146½ S. Main St. when he thought he smelled gas in the apartment at 5:25 p.m. yesterday. Firemen reported they used a gas detector but could find no indication of gas.

No persons are more frequently wrong, than those who will not admit they are wrong.—Rochefoucauld

Cincinnati-Conneaut Route Studied

Turnpike Officials To Expand Survey

BY REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Turnpike officials acted today to expand a preliminary survey of a Cincinnati-Conneaut toll road route.

Chairman James W. Shocknessy of the Ohio Turnpike Commission said the survey likely will include a spur linking the Pennsylvania Turnpike with Ohio's north-south toll road somewhere between the Mansfield and Columbus areas.

He said $135,000 released by the state controlling board for a feasibility study of a Cincinnati-Conneaut turnpike with a Toledo spur probably will be adequate to survey the second proposed spur.

The board promised enough money later to complete an engineering survey needed for turnpike construction if the feasibility study proves adequate. Board members estimate total survey costs at nearly a million dollars.

John Heier, deputy highway director, predicted the preliminary survey would demonstrate feasibility of the Cincinnati-Conneaut route but expressed doubt over a Toledo spur.

Shocknessy said, engineers figured the other proposed spur might be more feasible. Plans called for it to extend to the Ohio line south of Petersburg to join a spur off the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Petersburg is the place where Ohio's east-west turnpike now under construction joins the Pennsylvania toll road. The second Ohio turnpike would be designed to hook into New York's thruway over a toll road link authorized by Pennsylvania south of Erie, Pa. The north-south turnpike would cross the east-west turnpike south of Cleveland.

Shocknessy said he expected completion of the preliminary survey by May 1 and the engineering study in time to get work on the second turnpike under way by April 1955. Completion of the northern turnpike is scheduled next year.

The 101st General Assembly meeting in January 1955 might have something to say about a second turnpike if special session action on a House resolution yesterday means anything.

Representatives by voice vote adopted a resolution against the start of any more turnpikes until the next regular session reviews 1949 statutes authorizing the construction.

Reps. Leslie M. Burge and Russell S. Wade, Lorain County Republicans, sponsored the resolution. They said it stemmed from a dispute between the commission and Elyria over routing the east-west turnpike through that Lorain County seat. Elyria residents want the turnpike to swing north of the city.

Burge said the commission intends to build the turnpike through the city "without regard to Elyria's master plan" for development.

Other representatives took the floor to agree with Burge that the commission's powers should be curbed. They included Reps. George H. Kirkpatrick (R-Knox), Roy H. Longenecker (R-Wood) Guy C. Heiner (R-Stark) and William Manahan (R-Defiance).

Defending the commission were Reps. Robert W. Reider (D-Ottawa), minority whip, and George M. Hook Jr. (D-Brown).

Legislative leaders today cracked the whip in an effort to complete work of the special session.

Speaker William Saxbe (R-Champaign), who created a stir with his announcement for U.S. senator yesterday, pointed the House towards a noon adjournment. But senators said the session that opened Monday probably would last until late afernoon.

Both houses called for final votes on complicated measures designed to implement a half billion dollar highway bond issue approved by voters last November.

2 Training School Inmates Put in Jail

Two inmates of the Marion Training School were committed to the Marion County jail yesterday for investigation.

They are being held in the jail for safe-keeping and questioning about any possible implication in a fire last week at the Training School.

The fire resulted in minor damage to one of the dormitories.

Rev. Olewiler To Retire as Church Pastor

At the annual congregational meeting of First Presbyterian Church Wednesday night, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the church for nearly 27 years, notified the members of his intention to resign from the pastorate and to retire from the active ministry in June.

His is the longest pastorate in the history of the church here, and he is the dean of the clergymen in Marion. Exact date of his retirement will be announced at another congregational meeting.

Officers elected include John Bartram, Perry Bachelder, J. H. Smith, and G. W. Coffman, elders; C. D. Carnes, Donald Almendinger, James Dickson, Louis E. Meister Jr., and Robert Willey, deacons; Odell Thompson, Jackson Taft, and Harry Lazear, trustees; Henry True, treasurer; and Russell Dunlap, clerk of the congregation.

The year's work of the church was reviewed, and the annual report to the Presbytery was presented to the congregation by Rev. Olewiler.

Life Sued for Libel By Former Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former Bedford Heights Mayor Robert E. Willeford is asking for $100,000 in a libel action against Life Magazine and its distributors, the American News Co.

In the Common Pleas Court suit filed yesterday, Willeford charged a Life article published last March 30 caused him "mental suffering and humiliation." He also charged the article caused his defeat in last fall's elections.

The Life story concerns an incident last March 15 when Willeford fired a tear-gas gun at motorist Saul Goldstone, who was stopped for speeding. Accused of Mayhem, Willeford was acquitted in a Common Pleas Court trial.

LOSES 105 LBS. Wears Size 12 Again
Mrs. Margaret Banko, 3530 Strathavon Rd., Shaker Heights, Ohio writes: "When I started taking Rennel I weighed exactly 220 lbs. Today I weigh 115 lbs. and my doctors check up is 100% in perfect health. I am 39 years old and now again wear a size 12 dress. I can honestly say I have never felt better. I am no longer troubled with that gas bloated feeling. I look much younger and feel full of pep. Words cannot express how thankful I am to Rennel."
It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Casserole Combines Macaroni, Oysters

Refrigerator cars have made it possible for people in all parts of the country to have oysters any month of the year.

Good oyster recipes are more and more in demand. Popular with housewives are recipes for oyster stew and scalloped oysters. Here is a good recipe for shell macaroni and oysters.

Use 1 pint oysters
2 cups uncooked shell macaroni
½ cup butter
1 clove garlic
1-3 cup flour
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups grated cheddar cheese

Drain oysters, reserving 1 cup liquid; cook marcaroni according to directions on the package. Meanwhile, melt butter in a saucepan. Peel garlic, split in half and brown in butter. Remove pan from heat. Discard garlic.

Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add oyster liquid and milk. (If oyster liquid is not used, add 1 extra cup of milk). Stir until well blended.

Return to heat and cook until thick. Stir in salt, pepper and grated cheese. Toss macaroni with cheese sauce and pour into buttered 2 quart casserole.

Make a well in center and pour in oysters. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

"I'll buy both pounds! Mrs. Filbert's and any other spread"

Mrs. M. V. Filbert, Pres.

SAYS MRS. FILBERT

"Compare the smoothness! Even ICE-COLD my margarine goes on bread easier than any other spread you try. No lumps! No holes in bread with Mrs. Filbert's...or I pay!" Mrs. M. V. Filbert

"HERE'S MY OFFER— TAKE ME UP ON IT!

"Spread delicious Mrs. Filbert's Margarine ICE-COLD on fresh bread," says Mrs. Filbert. "Then try any other ice-cold spread, margarine or not. Does the other one lump, crumble, and tear holes? Mine goes on fast and easy! Yes, if it doesn't beat the other all hollow, send both cartons and a note with your reasons, tell me what you paid, and I'll buy both pounds!"

And smoothness isn't all! Mrs. Filbert's Margarine tastes so dewy-fresh and sweet you can't tell it from the most expensive spread! It's her own recipe—plenty of sweet, fat-free milk and 15,000 units of Vitamin A in every pound. Buy Mrs. Filbert's today! (One smoothness offer to a family, please—and the offer ends March 15, 1954.)

Spreads smooth even ICE-COLD!

AEC Suggests Sailors Cut Out Chatty Letters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has passed word to the Navy to do something to stop those chatty and descriptive letters sent home by military personnel who see the big and supposedly secret atomic tests in the Pacific.

Recalling a number of letters from task force personnel who witnessed the test of a hydrogen explosive device at Eniwetok in the fall of 1952, a reporter asked the AEC what would be done to prevent similar disclosures in the forthcoming series of tests at which an H-weapon is expected to be used.

An AEC spokesman replied:

"The task force is expected to have adequate measures in force to safeguard security restricted data."

At the Pentagon, it was explained that the commander of every ship and of installations ashore will be ordered to see to it that each individual in his command receives specific instructions against writing any personal letters to anyone describing or otherwise hinting at what he may see in a test. In the 1952 test, some crew members were said not to have been cautioned against letter writing.

Doubt was expressed today that a mail censorship, which involves inspection of each outgoing personal letter, could be invoked except in a war or state of emergency. Even during the Korean War, no mail censorship was in force.

Lodge Cites Difference Between U.S., Russians

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the United States' chief delegate to the United Nations, in Dallas last night, gave the difference between him and Andrei Vishinsky, the Russian chief delegate.

"Vishinsky is an individual who follows instructions regardless of their nature," Lodge said. "He is very closely held."

"I'm told: 'Now, Lodge, you know what the policy is. Don't be running to Washington all the time.' "

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied in the second hour today—just as it did yesterday—and produced good gains throughout almost the entire list.

Yesterday's move ahead was led by the rails. Today the leadership was broader and included aircrafts, steels, chemicals, and electronics.

Gains were pushed to between 1 and 2 points in many instances. Small minus signs here and there didn't succeed in hampering the rise.

Higher stocks included General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, American Tobacco, Missouri Pacific preferred, Southern Pacific, Texas Co. and 20th Century-Fox.

Sheriff's Deputies Round Up Stray Cattle on N. State

Marion County sheriff's deputies have added rounding up cattle to their list of happenings in a day's work.

But they're wondering what to do with the three heifers and one steer—white-faced Hereford type—they "corraled" this morning just north of the corporation limit on N. State St.

L. P. Seiter, a resident of the N. State St. area, called the sheriff's office at 9:25 this morning to report that the cattle were roaming around in the street.

Two deputies went out, and with the assistance of neighbors and employes of Philip C. Malo, rounded up the quartet and "steered" them over to Malo's farm on the Williamsport Road.

The police station is on Commercial Street, and green lights are traditional for police stations. The card was signed by a convicted murderer whom Cosgrove had helped capture.

ANNIE ROONEY — By Darrell McClure

YOU SAID YOU SAW ANNIE ROONEY LIVING IN A DILAPIDATED OLD HOUSE~AND THE HOUSE WAS ON THE HIGHWAY AT THE FOOT OF A STEEP HILL??
CORRECT~ AND I WASN'T DREAMING~ IT WAS A DENSE, FOGGY NIGHT~ BUT I HAD A POWERFUL FLASHLIGHT AND SAW THAT THE PLACE WAS RUN DOWN AND FALLING APART~
BUT NOW YOU SAY THE OLD HOUSE AND THE LITTLE BRAT HAVE VANISHED~ NOW I ASK YOU, DOES THAT MAKE GOOD SENSE?
LISTEN~ GOOD SENSE OR NONSENSE, I SAW THE HOUSE AND I SAW THE KID! I DON'T KNOW WHAT THE GIMMICK IS, BUT I'LL FIND THEM AGAIN IF IT'S THE LAST THING I EVER DO!
